ATLANTIC UNION BANKSHARES CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Company

Headquartered in Richmond, Virginia, Atlantic Union Bankshares Corporation (NYSE: AUB) is the holding company for Atlantic Union Bank (the “Bank”), which provides banking and related financial products and services to consumers and businesses. Except as otherwise indicated or the context suggests otherwise, references to the “Company” refers to Atlantic Union Bankshares Corporation and its subsidiaries.

Basis of Financial Information

The accounting policies and practices of Atlantic Union Bankshares Corporation and subsidiaries conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (“GAAP”) and follow general practices within the banking industry. The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company, which is a financial holding company and a bank holding company that owns all of the outstanding common stock of its banking subsidiary, Atlantic Union Bank, which owns Atlantic Union Equipment Finance, Inc., AUB Investments, Inc., and Atlantic Union Capital Markets, Inc.

The unaudited consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiaries. The preparation of the unaudited consolidated financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Material estimates that are particularly susceptible to significant change in the near term relate to the determination of the allowance for loan and lease losses (“ALLL”), the fair value of financial instruments, and valuation of deferred tax assets. The results of operations for the interim periods are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the full year or any other period.

Effective January 1, 2026, the Company made certain changes to its allowance methodology as part of the continued enhancement of its credit modeling practices, resulting in more dynamic and precise modeling that allows for more granularity in the monitoring of our expected credit losses. As a result of this change, the Company moved from two loan portfolio segments (Commercial and Consumer) to three portfolio segments (Commercial Real Estate (“CRE”), Commercial and Industrial, and Consumer), by reorganizing the former Commercial segment into the CRE and Commercial and Industrial segments, with no changes made to the Consumer segment. These changes were accounted for prospectively as a change in accounting estimate in the first quarter of 2026, did not have a material impact on the Company’s consolidated financial statements, and resulted in no changes to previously reported values. For more information on the updated allowance for credit losses (“ACL”) methodology after the change referenced above, see the Company’s ACL and loans held for investment (“LHFI”) accounting policies described below. For information regarding the Company’s collectively assessed prior allowance methodology, as well as the Company’s reserve for unfunded commitments (“RUC”) and the allowance for credit losses on securities policies, see Note 1 “Summary of Significant Accounting Policies” in the “Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements” contained in Item 8 “Financial Statements and Supplementary Data” of the Company’s 2025 Form 10-K.

Allowance for Credit Losses

The ACL primarily consists of the ALLL, RUC, and the allowance for credit losses on securities. The Company’s ACL is governed by the Company’s Allowance Committee, which reports to the Audit Committee and contains representatives from the Company’s finance, credit, and risk teams, and is responsible for approving the Company’s estimate of expected credit losses and resulting ACL. The Allowance Committee considers the quantitative model results and qualitative factors when approving the final ACL. The Company’s ACL model is subject to the Company’s model risk management program, which is overseen by the Operational Risk Committee that reports to the Company’s Executive Risk Committee and Board Risk Committee. The ALLL includes qualitative adjustments to capture the impact of factors or uncertainties not reflected in the quantitative model. These adjustments are comprised of relevant internal and external factors within the qualitative framework that adheres to the Interagency Policy Statement on Allowances for Credit Losses.

Allowance for Loan and Lease Losses: The ALLL is a valuation account that is deducted from the loans' amortized cost basis to present the net amount expected to be collected on the loans. Changes in the ALLL are recorded as a provision for loan losses to bring the ALLL to an estimated balance that management considers appropriate to absorb expected credit losses over the expected contractual life of the loan portfolio. Loans are charged off against the ALLL when management believes the amount is no longer collectible based on an evaluation of the borrower's financial condition, repayment capacity, collateral values, and other observable factors affecting collectability. Subsequent recoveries of previously charged off amounts are recorded as increases to the ALLL; however, expected recoveries are not to exceed the aggregate of amounts previously charged off.

Determining the Contractual Term – Expected credit losses are estimated over the contractual term of the loans, adjusted for expected prepayments when appropriate. The contractual term excludes expected extensions, renewals, and modifications unless the extensions or renewal options are included in the original or modified contract at the reporting date and are not unconditionally legally cancelable by the Company.

The Company's ALLL measures the expected lifetime loss using both pooled and loan-level assumptions for financial assets that share common risk characteristics and evaluates an individual reserve in instances where the financial assets do not share the same risk characteristics.

Collectively Assessed Reserve Consideration – Loans that share common risk characteristics are considered collectively assessed. Loss estimates within the collectively assessed population are based on a combination of pooled assumptions and loan-level characteristics.

Effective January 1, 2026, the Company now uses either a loan-level probability of default/loss given default methodology or a segment level loss rate model for its loan portfolio. The ALLL is estimated using quantitative methods that consider a variety of factors from both internal and external sources at the loan, portfolio, and macroeconomic environment levels. The Company's quantitative models consider various macroeconomic variables including the unemployment rate, gross domestic product, home price index, and others for a reasonable and supportable forecast period. The ALLL quantitative estimate is sensitive to changes in the macroeconomic variable forecasts during the reasonable and supportable period.

The estimated loan losses that are forecasted using the methodology described above are then adjusted for changes in qualitative factors not inherently considered in the quantitative analysis. The qualitative factors include, among others, credit concentrations of the loan portfolio, economic uncertainty, model imprecision, and factors related to credit administration.

Because current economic conditions and forecasts can change and future events are inherently difficult to predict, the anticipated amount of estimated credit losses on loans, and therefore the appropriateness of the ALLL, could change significantly. In estimating the ALLL, the Company considers multiple forecast scenarios to address the uncertainty inherent in macroeconomic variable forecasts. It is difficult to estimate how potential changes in any one economic factor or input might affect the overall allowance because a wide variety of factors and inputs are considered in estimating the allowance and changes in those factors and inputs considered may not occur at the same rate and may not be consistent across all loan types. Additionally, changes in factors and inputs may be directionally inconsistent, such that an improvement in one factor may offset deterioration in others.

Individually Assessed Reserve Consideration – Loans that do not share similar risk characteristics with any loan segments are evaluated on an individual basis. The individual reserve component relates to loans that have shown substantial credit deterioration as measured by nonaccrual status, risk rating, and/or delinquency status. In addition, the Company has elected the practical expedient that would include loans for individual assessment consideration if the repayment of the loan is expected substantially through the operation or sale of collateral because the borrower is experiencing financial difficulty. Where the expected source of repayment is from the sale of collateral, the ALLL is based on the fair value of the underlying collateral, less selling costs, compared to the amortized cost basis of the loan. If the ALLL is based on the operation of the collateral, the reserve is calculated based on the fair value of the collateral calculated as the present value of expected cash flows from the operation of the collateral, compared to the amortized cost basis. If the Company determines that the value of a collateral dependent loan is less than the recorded investment in the loan, the Company charges off the deficiency if it is determined that such amount is deemed uncollectible. Typically, a loss is confirmed when the Company is moving toward foreclosure or final disposition. The ALLL on loans individually assessed is updated, reviewed, and approved on a quarterly basis at or near the end of each reporting period.

The Company performs regular credit reviews of the loan portfolio to review the credit quality and adherence to its underwriting standards. The credit reviews include annual commercial loan reviews performed by the Company's commercial bankers in accordance with the commercial loan policy, relationship reviews that accompany annual loan renewals, and independent reviews by its Credit Risk Review Group. Upon origination, each commercial loan is assigned an initial risk rating in accordance with the Company's underwriting guidelines, which require newly originated loans to be rated between one and four, with ratings closer to one indicating lower credit risk. The Company's full risk rating scale ranges from one to nine, and loans may migrate to higher risk ratings over time if their risk profile deteriorates. The risk rating scale is the Company's primary credit quality indicator for commercial loans. Consumer loans are not risk rated unless past due status, bankruptcy, or other events result in the assignment of a Substandard or worse risk rating in accordance with the consumer loan policy. Delinquency status is the Company's primary credit quality indicator for Consumer loans.

Refer to Note 1 "Summary of Significant Accounting Policies" in the "Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements" contained in Item 8 "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" in the Company's 2025 Form 10-K for additional information on the Company's policies and for further information on the Company's credit quality indicators.

Loans Held for Investment

Prior to January 1, 2026, the Company applied ALLL methodologies to two portfolio segments: Commercial and Consumer. As disclosed above, effective January 1, 2026, the Company made certain changes to its allowance methodology as part of the continued enhancement of its credit modeling practices, resulting in more dynamic and precise modeling that allows for more granularity in the monitoring of the Company's expected credit losses. As a result of this change, the Company moved from two loan portfolio segments (Commercial and Consumer) to three portfolio segments (CRE, Commercial and Industrial, and Consumer), by reorganizing the former Commercial segment into the CRE and Commercial and Industrial segments, with no changes made to the Consumer segment. The Company defines the three loan portfolio segments as follows:

CRE:

- CRE – Non-Owner Occupied - Term loans typically made to borrowers to support income producing properties that rely upon the successful operation of the property for repayment. General market conditions and economic activity may impact the performance of these types of loans. In addition to using specific underwriting policies and procedures for these types of loans, the Company manages risk by diversifying the lending to various property types, such as retail, office, office warehouse, and hotel, as well as avoiding concentrations to any one business, industry, property type, or market.
- CRE – Owner Occupied - Term loans made to support owner occupied real estate properties that rely upon the successful operation of the business occupying the property for repayment. General market conditions and economic activity may affect these types of loans. In addition to using specific underwriting policies and procedures for these types of loans, the Company manages risk by avoiding concentrations to any one business or industry.
- Construction and Land Development - Construction loans generally made to commercial and residential developers and builders for specific construction projects. The successful repayment of these types of loans is generally dependent upon (a) a commitment for permanent financing from the Company or other lender, or (b) from the sale of the constructed property. These loans carry more risk than both types of CRE term loans due to the dynamics of construction projects, changes in interest rates, the long-term financing market, and state and local government regulations. As in CRE term lending, the Company manages risk by using specific underwriting policies and procedures for these types of loans and by avoiding excessive concentrations to any one business, industry, property type, or market.

Also included in this category are loans generally made to residential home builders to support their lot and home construction inventory needs. Repayment relies upon the sale of the underlying residential real estate project. This type of lending is generally viewed as carrying a higher level of risk as compared to other commercial lending. This class of lending manages risks related to residential real estate market conditions, a functioning primary and secondary market in which to finance the sale of residential properties, and the borrower's ability to manage inventory and run projects. The Company manages this risk by lending to experienced builders and developers by using specific underwriting policies and procedures for these types of loans and by avoiding excessive concentrations with any particular customer or geographic region.

- Multifamily Real Estate - Loans made to real estate investors to support permanent financing for multifamily residential income producing properties that rely on the successful operation of the property for repayment. This operation mainly involves property maintenance, re-leasing upon tenant turnover and collection of rents due from tenants. The Company manages this risk by avoiding concentrations with any particular customer and if necessary, in any particular submarket.
- Residential 1-4 Family – Commercial - Loans made to commercial borrowers where the loan is secured by residential property. The Residential 1-4 Family - Commercial loan portfolio carries risks associated with the creditworthiness of the tenant, the ability to re-lease the property when vacancies occur, and changes in loan-to-value ratios. The Company manages these risks through policies and procedures, such as limiting loan-to-value ratios at origination, requiring guarantees, experienced underwriting, and requiring standards for appraisers.
- Other Commercial (Farmland) - Portfolios carry risks associated with the creditworthiness of the borrower and changes in the economic environment. The Company manages these risks by using general underwriting policies and procedures for these types of loans and experienced underwriting. Loans secured by farmland are included in this category.

Commercial and Industrial:

- Commercial & Industrial - Loans generally made to support borrowers' needs for short-term or seasonal cash flow and equipment/vehicle purchases. Repayment relies upon the successful operation of the business. This type of lending typically carries a lower level of commercial credit risk as compared to other commercial lending. The Company manages this risk by using general underwriting policies and procedures for these types of loans and by avoiding concentrations to any one business or industry.
- Other Commercial (Other) - Portfolios carry risks associated with the creditworthiness of the borrower and changes in the economic environment. The Company manages these risks by using general underwriting policies and procedures for these types of loans and experienced underwriting. Loans that support small business lines of credit and agricultural lending are included in this category.

Consumer:

- Auto - The consumer indirect auto lending portfolio carries certain risks associated with the values of the collateral that management must mitigate. The Company focuses its indirect auto lending on one to two-year-old used vehicles where substantial depreciation has already occurred thereby minimizing the risk of significant loss of collateral values in the future. This type of lending places reliance on computer-based loan approval systems to supplement other underwriting standards.
- Consumer - Loans to consumer borrowers for various personal and household purposes as well as loans purchased through various third-party lending programs. These portfolios carry risks associated with the borrower, changes in the economic environment, and the vendors themselves. The Company manages these risks through policies that require minimum credit scores and other underwriting requirements, robust analysis of actual performance versus expected performance, as well as ensuring compliance with the Company's vendor management program.
- Residential 1-4 Family – Consumer - Loans generally made to consumer residential borrowers. The Residential 1-4 Family - Consumer loan portfolio carries risks associated with the creditworthiness of the borrower and changes in loan-to-value ratios. The Company manages these risks through policies and procedures such as limiting loan-to-value ratios at origination, experienced underwriting, requiring standards for appraisers, and not making subprime loans.
- Residential 1-4 Family – Revolving - The consumer portfolio carries risks associated with the creditworthiness of the borrower and changes in loan-to-value ratios. The Company manages these risks through policies and procedures, such as limiting loan-to-value ratios at origination, using experienced underwriting, requiring standards for appraisers, and not making subprime loans.

The allowance methodology changes were accounted for prospectively as a change in accounting estimate in the first quarter of 2026, did not have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements, and resulted in no changes to previously reported values. See “Critical Accounting Estimates” in Part I, Item 2 of this Quarterly Report for additional information on the change in methodology.

Adoption of New Accounting Standards – In December 2025, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) issued Accounting Standards Update (“ASU”) No. 2025-10 Government Grants (Topic 832): Accounting for Government Grants Received by Business Entities. This update established authoritative guidance on the accounting for government grants received by business entities. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2028, and interim reporting periods within those annual reporting periods. Early adoption is permitted. The Company early adopted ASU 2025-10 effective January 1, 2026, on a modified prospective basis. ASU 2025-10 did not have a material impact on the Company’s consolidated financial statements.

2. ACQUISITIONS

Sandy Spring Bancorp. Inc. Acquisition

On April 1, 2025, the Company completed its previously announced acquisition of Sandy Spring, the holding company for Sandy Spring Bank, headquartered in Olney, Maryland. Under the terms of the Sandy Spring merger agreement, at the effective time of the Sandy Spring acquisition, each outstanding share of Sandy Spring common stock was converted into the right to receive 0.900 shares of the Company's common stock, with cash paid in lieu of fractional shares, resulting in 41.0 million additional shares issued, or an aggregate transaction value of approximately $1.3 billion, based on the closing price per share of the Company's common stock as quoted on the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") on March 31, 2025, which was the last trading day prior to the consummation of the acquisition. With the acquisition of Sandy Spring, the Company acquired more than 50 branches in Virginia, Maryland, and Washington, D.C., enhancing the Company's presence in Northern Virginia and Maryland.

Goodwill associated with the Sandy Spring acquisition totaled $540.8 million at March 31, 2026, allocated between the Company's Wholesale Banking ($431.7 million) and Consumer Banking ($109.1 million) reporting segments, which is not deductible for tax purposes. As of March 31, 2026, the purchase accounting was finalized and no longer subject to change.

The following table provides a summary of the consideration transferred and the fair value of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed as of the date of the Sandy Spring acquisition (dollars in thousands).

Purchase price consideration	$ 1,275,969
Fair value of assets acquired:
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 270,211
Securities available for sale ("AFS")	1,266,925
Restricted stock	68,310
Loans held for sale ("LHFS") - CRE	1,839,638

LHFI	8,572,384
Premises and equipment	59,402
Core deposit intangible ("CDI") and other intangibles	290,650
Bank owned life insurance ("BOLI")	170,482
Lease right of use ("ROU") assets	40,808
Other assets ⁽¹⁾	337,509
Total assets	$ 12,945,471
Fair value of liabilities assumed:
Deposits	$ 11,227,922
Short-term borrowings	272,201
Long-term borrowings	560,761
Lease liabilities	40,808
Other liabilities	108,631
Total liabilities	$ 12,210,323
Fair value of net assets acquired	$ 735,148
Goodwill	$ 540,821

The Company assessed the fair value for significant assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on the following methods:

- Cash and cash equivalents: The fair value was determined to approximate the carrying amount based on the short-term nature of these assets.
- Securities AFS: The fair value of the investment portfolio was based on pricing obtained by independent pricing services and quoted market prices.
- Restricted stock: The carrying value approximates the fair value.
- LHFS CRE and non-CRE: Fair values were estimated using a discounted cash flow analysis that considered factors including loan type, interest rate type, prepayment speeds, duration, and current discount rates.
- LHFI: Fair values for LHFI were estimated using a discounted cash flow analysis that considered factors including loan type, interest rate type, prepayment speeds, duration, and current discount rates. The discount rates were developed considering market participants' view of loan types, liquidity risk, the maturity of the loans, service costs and a required return of capital. Expected cash flows were derived using inputs that considered estimated credit losses and prepayments.
- Premises and equipment: The fair value of bank premises and equipment held for use was valued by obtaining recent market data for similar property types with adjustments for characteristics of individual properties.
- CDI and other intangibles: CDI represents the future economic benefit of acquired customer deposits. The fair value of the CDI asset was estimated based on a discounted cash flow methodology that incorporated expected customer attrition rates, cost of deposit base, net maintenance cost associated with customer deposits, and the cost for alternative funding sources. The discount rates used were based on market rates. Other intangibles include customer relationship intangible assets and non-compete intangible assets. Customer relationship intangible assets represent the value associated with customer relationships related to the wealth management business that was acquired. Non-compete intangible assets represent the value associated with non-compete agreements for former employees in place at the date of the acquisition.
- BOLI: The fair value of BOLI is carried at its current cash surrender value, which is the most reasonable estimate of fair value.
- Lease ROU assets and lease liabilities: The fair value of the lease ROU assets was measured at an amount equal to the lease liability and evaluated for favorable or unfavorable lease terms when compared with market terms on a lease-by-lease basis.
- Deposits: The fair value of interest-bearing and non-interest-bearing deposits is the amount payable on demand at the acquisition date. The fair value of time deposits was estimated using a discounted cash flow calculation that includes a market rate analysis of the current rates offered by market participants for certificates of deposits that mature in the same period.
- Short-Term Borrowings: Acquired short term borrowings consisted of Federal Home Loan Bank ("FHLB") overnight borrowings and borrowings under repurchase agreements. The carrying amount on short-term borrowings was determined to approximate fair value.
- Long-Term Borrowings: The fair values of long-term borrowings, including trust preferred securities and subordinated debt, were estimated using a discounted cash flow approach analysis, factoring in market terms and the structural terms of the borrowings.

Unaudited Pro forma Impact of the Acquisition

The following table presents for illustrative purposes certain unaudited pro forma information as if the Company had acquired Sandy Spring on January 1, 2025. These results combine the historical results of Sandy Spring in the Company's Consolidated Statements of Income and while certain adjustments were made for the estimated impact of certain fair value adjustments and other acquisition-related activity. These results are not indicative of what would have occurred had the Sandy Spring acquisition taken place on January 1, 2025. No adjustments have been made to the pro forma results regarding possible revenue enhancements, provision for credit losses, or expense efficiencies. Pro forma adjustments below include the net impact of Sandy Spring's accretion and the elimination of merger-related costs. Merger-related costs as disclosed in the Company's Consolidated Statement of Income were related to the Sandy Spring acquisition and included costs associated with employee severance, other employee related costs, professional fees, information technology related costs, including system conversion, and lease and contract termination expenses. Merger-related costs have been expensed as incurred. The Company expects to achieve further operating cost savings and other business synergies, as a result of the Sandy Spring acquisitions, which are not reflected in the pro forma amounts below (dollars in thousands):

⁽²⁾ Includes the net impact of Sandy Spring's acquisition-related accretion adjustments of $21.0 million during the three months ended March 31, 2025.

⁽³⁾ Excludes merger-related costs of $4.6 million incurred during the three months ended March 31, 2025.

The Company's operating results for the three and six months ended June 30, 2026 and June 30, 2025, include the operating results of the acquired assets and assumed liabilities of Sandy Spring subsequent to the acquisition on April 1, 2025. Revenues and earnings since the acquisition date of the former operations of Sandy Spring have not been disclosed due to the merging of certain processes and the conversion of Sandy Spring's systems that occurred in the fourth quarter of 2025. As a result, separate financial information is not readily available.

⁽²⁾ Comprised of 696 and 703 individual securities as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

The Company has evaluated AFS securities in an unrealized loss position for credit related impairment at June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025 and concluded no impairment existed based on several factors which included: (1) the majority of these securities are of high credit quality, (2) unrealized losses are primarily the result of market volatility and increases in market interest rates, (3) the contractual terms of the investments do not permit the issuer(s) to settle the securities at a price less than the cost basis of each investment, (4) issuers continue to make timely principal and interest payments, and (5) the Company does not intend to sell any of the investments and the accounting standard of "more likely than not" has not been met for the Company to be required to sell any of the investments before recovery of its amortized cost basis.

Additionally, the majority of the Company's mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") are issued by the Federal National Mortgage Association, the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, and the Government National Mortgage Association, and have minimal credit risk given the implicit and explicit government guarantees associated with these agencies. In addition, the non-agency mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities generally received a 20% simplified supervisory formula approach rating. The Company's AFS investment portfolio is generally highly-rated or agency backed. At June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, all AFS securities were current with no securities past due or on non-accrual, and no ACL was held against the Company's AFS securities portfolio.

The Company considers a default of a TLM to occur when the borrower is 90 days past due following the modification or a foreclosure and repossession of the applicable collateral occurs. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2026 and June 30, 2025, the Company did not have any material loans that went into default that had been modified and designated as TLMs in the twelve-month period prior to the time of default.

The Company monitors the performance of TLMs to determine the effectiveness of the modifications. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2026 and June 30, 2025, the Company did not have any material loans that had been modified and designated as TLMs that were past due.

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, there were no material unfunded commitments on loans modified and designated as TLMs.

Allowance for Credit Losses

The following table shows the ALLL activity by loan segment for the three and six months ended June 30, reflecting the changes made to the Company's allowance methodology effective January 1, 2026 (dollars in thousands). See Note 1 "Summary of Significant Accounting Policies" in Part I, Item 1 of this Quarterly Report for additional information on the change in methodology:

Credit Quality Indicators

Credit quality indicators are used to help estimate the collectability of each loan class within the loan portfolio segments. For classes of loans within the CRE and Commercial and Industrial segments, the primary credit quality indicator used for evaluating credit quality and estimating the ALLL is risk rating categories of Pass (including Pass-Watch), Special Mention, Substandard, and Doubtful. For classes of loans within the Consumer segment, the primary credit quality indicator used for evaluating credit quality and estimating the ALLL is delinquency bands of current, 30-59, 60-89, 90+, and nonaccrual. While other credit quality indicators are evaluated and analyzed as part of the Company's credit risk management activities, these indicators are primarily used in estimating the ALLL. The Company evaluates the credit risk of its loan portfolio on at least a quarterly basis.

Refer to Note 1 "Summary of Significant Accounting Policies" in the "Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements" contained in Item 8 "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" in the Company's 2025 Form 10-K for additional information on the Company's policies and for further information on the Company's credit quality indicators.

CRE and Commercial and Industrial Loans

The Company uses a risk rating system as the primary credit quality indicator for classes of loans within the CRE and Commercial and Industrial segments. The Company defines pass loans as risk rated 1-5 and criticized loans as risk rated 6-9. See Note 4 "Loans and Allowance For Loan and Lease Losses" in the "Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements" contained in Item 8 "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" of the Company's 2025 Form 10-K for information on the Company's risk rating system.

5. LEASES

Lessor Arrangements

The Company's lessor arrangements consist of sales-type and direct financing leases for equipment, including vehicles and machinery, with original terms ranging from 17 months to 122 months. At June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the carrying value of residual assets covered by residual value guarantees and residual value insurance was $120.1 million and $122.4 million, respectively.

Total net investment in sales-type and direct financing leases are included in "Loans held for investment, net of unearned income" on the Company's Consolidated Balance Sheets and consisted of the following as of the periods ended (dollars in thousands):

	June 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Sales-type and direct financing leases:
Lease receivables, net of unearned income and deferred selling profit	$ 693,152	$ 614,543

6. BORROWINGS

Short-term Borrowings

The Company classifies borrowings with original maturities of one year or less as short-term. Short-term borrowings consist primarily of securities sold under repurchase agreements, which are secured customer transactions that generally mature on the following business day, and advances from the FHLB. The Company can also utilize federal funds purchased (secured overnight borrowings from other financial institutions) and other lines of credit, as needed.

Total short-term borrowings consisted of the following as of the periods ended (dollars in thousands):

	June 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Securities sold under agreements to repurchase	$ 155,659	$ 75,432
FHLB advances	950,000	650,000
Total short-term borrowings	$ 1,105,659	$ 725,432
Average outstanding balance during the period	$ 587,065	$ 175,929
Average interest rate during the period	3.63 %	3.44 %
Average interest rate at end of period	3.74 %	3.15 %

Short-term borrowings are used to manage normal liquidity and support the Company's asset and liability management strategies and can fluctuate depending on funding needs. The Company's available unused short-term borrowings consisted of the following as of the periods ended (dollars in thousands):

	June 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Federal funds lines with correspondent banks	$ 1,392,000	$ 1,410,000
Alternative line of credit with correspondent bank	25,000	25,000

Other secondary sources ⁽³⁾	5,248,460	4,960,331
Total available unused short-term borrowings	$ 13,306,415	$ 14,246,054

Based on the amount of collateral pledged, the secured line of credit capacity was $5.9 billion at June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

⁽²⁾ The Company's Federal Reserve Discount Window borrowing capacity was $1.7 billion and $2.6 billion, none of which were used at June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

Refer to Note 7 "Commitments and Contingencies" within this Item 1 of this Quarterly Report for additional information on the Company's pledged collateral. The Company has certain restrictive covenants related to certain asset quality, capital, and profitability metrics associated with these lines and was in compliance with these covenants as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

Long-term Borrowings

During the third quarter of 2026 the Company issued a notice of redemption for its outstanding $168.0 million fixed-to-floating rate subordinated notes (“2029 Subordinated Notes”) that were due to mature in 2029. The Company expects the redemption to occur; however, the redemption remains subject to customary conditions, and the Company reserves the right to withdraw, delay, or revoke the notice if such conditions are not satisfied or market circumstances warrant. See Note 14 “Subsequent Events” for additional information.

7. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Litigation and Regulatory Matters

In the ordinary course of its operations, the Company and its subsidiaries are subject to loss contingencies related to legal and regulatory proceedings. The Company establishes accruals for those matters when a loss contingency is considered probable and the related amount is reasonably estimable. When applicable, the Company estimates loss contingencies and whether there is an accruable probable loss. When the Company is able to estimate such losses and when it is reasonably possible that the Company could incur losses in excess of the amounts accrued, the Company discloses the aggregate estimation of such possible losses.

Financial Instruments with Off-Balance Sheet Risk

The Company is a party to financial instruments with off-balance sheet risk in the normal course of business to meet the financing needs of its customers and to reduce its own exposure to fluctuations in interest rates. These financial instruments include commitments to extend credit and letters of credit. These instruments involve elements of credit and interest rate risk in excess of the amount recognized on the Company's Consolidated Balance Sheets. The contractual amounts of these instruments reflect the extent of the Company's involvement in particular classes of financial instruments.

The Company's exposure to credit loss in the event of nonperformance by the other party to the financial instruments for commitments to extend credit and letters of credit written is represented by the contractual amount of these instruments. The Company uses the same credit policies in making commitments and conditional obligations as it does for on-balance sheet instruments. Unless noted otherwise, the Company does not require collateral or other security to support off-balance sheet instruments with credit risk. The Company considers credit losses related to off-balance sheet commitments by undergoing a similar process in evaluating losses for loans that are carried on the balance sheet. The Company considers historical loss and funding information, current economic conditions, and reasonable and supportable forecasted economic conditions, among other factors in the consideration of expected credit losses in the Company's off-balance sheet commitments to extend credit.

At June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company's RUC totaled $32.2 million and $26.2 million, respectively. The Company also records an indemnification reserve based on historical statistics and loss rates related to mortgage loans previously sold, which totaled $499 thousand and $506 thousand, respectively, at June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025. The RUC and indemnification reserve are included in "Other Liabilities" on the Company's Consolidated Balance Sheets.

Commitments to extend credit are agreements to lend to customers as long as there are no violations of any conditions established in the contracts. Commitments generally have fixed expiration dates or other termination clauses and may require payment of a fee. Because many of the commitments may expire without being completely drawn upon, the total commitment amounts do not necessarily represent future cash requirements.

Letters of credit are conditional commitments issued by the Company to guarantee the performance of customers to third parties. The credit risk involved in issuing letters of credit is essentially the same as that involved in extending loans to customers.

The following table presents the balances of commitments and contingencies as of the periods ended (dollars in thousands):

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company held $214.5 million and $169.5 million, respectively, in deposits in other financial institutions including $140.4 million and $124.7 million at each date, respectively, pledged as collateral for cash flow, fair value and loan swap derivatives. Uninsured deposits in other financial institutions totaled $71.1 million and $41.9 million at June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. The Company's management evaluates the loss risk of its uninsured deposits in other financial institutions at least annually.

For asset/liability management purposes, the Company uses interest rate contracts to hedge various exposures or to modify the interest rate characteristics of various balance sheet accounts. For the over-the-counter derivatives cleared with the central clearinghouses, the variation margin is treated as a settlement of the related derivatives fair values. Refer to Note 8 "Derivatives" within this Item 1 for additional information.

As part of the Company's liquidity management strategy, the Company pledges collateral to secure various financing and other activities that occur during the normal course of business. The Company maintains robust borrowing capacity at the FHLB and FRB since secured borrowing facilities provide the most reliable sources of funding, especially during times of market turbulence and financial distress. The following tables present the types of collateral pledged as of the periods ended (dollars in thousands):

8. DERIVATIVES

The Company has cash flow and fair value hedges that are derivatives designated as accounting hedges. The Company also has derivatives not designated as accounting hedges that include foreign exchange contracts, interest rate contracts, and Risk Participation Agreements. The Company's mortgage banking derivatives do not have a material impact to the Company and are not included within the derivatives disclosures noted below.

The following table summarizes key elements of the Company's derivative instruments as of the periods ended, segregated by derivatives that are considered accounting hedges and those that are not (dollars in thousands):

	June 30, 2026			December 31, 2025

⁽¹⁾ Notional amounts are not recorded on the Company's Consolidated Balance Sheets and are generally used only as a basis on which interest and other payments are determined.

⁽³⁾ The Company's cleared derivatives are classified as a single-unit of accounting, resulting in the fair value of the designated swap being reduced by the variation margin, which is treated as settlement of the related derivatives fair value for accounting purposes and is reported on a net basis.

⁽⁴⁾ Includes Risk Participation Agreements.

⁽⁵⁾ The fair value of derivative assets and liabilities is presented on a gross basis. The Company has not applied collateral netting; as such the amounts of cash collateral received or pledged are not offset against the derivative assets and derivative liabilities in the Consolidated Balance Sheets. Cash collateral received and pledged are included in "Interest-bearing deposits in other banks" on the Company's Consolidated Balance Sheets.

The following table summarizes the carrying value of the Company's hedged assets in fair value hedges and the associated cumulative basis adjustments included in those carrying values as of the periods ended (dollars in thousands):

Loans ⁽³⁾	61,443	(8,091)	63,993	(7,908)

⁽²⁾ Carrying value represents amortized cost.

⁽³⁾ The fair value of the swaps associated with the derivative related to hedged items at June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025 was $8.2 million and $8.0 million, respectively.

9. STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITY

Forward Sale Agreements

On October 21, 2024, in connection with the execution of the Sandy Spring merger agreement, the Company entered into an initial forward sale agreement with Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC (the "Forward Purchaser") relating to an aggregate of 9,859,155 shares of the Company's common stock. On October 21, 2024, the Company priced the public offering of shares of the Company's common stock in connection with such forward sale agreement and entered into an underwriting agreement with Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC, as representative for the underwriters named therein, the Forward Purchaser and Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC as forward seller (the "Forward Seller"), relating to the registered public offering and sale of 9,859,155 shares of the Company's common stock at a public offering price of $35.50 per share (before underwriting discounts and commissions). The underwriters were granted a 30-day option to purchase up to an additional 1,478,873 shares of the Company's common stock. On October 21, 2024, the underwriters exercised in full their option to purchase the additional 1,478,873 shares of the Company's common stock pursuant to the underwriting agreement and, in connection therewith, the Company entered into an additional forward sale agreement with the Forward Purchaser relating to 1,478,873 shares of the Company's common stock, on terms substantially similar to those contained in the initial forward sale agreement (such additional forward sale agreement together with the initial forward sale agreement, the "Forward Sale Agreements").

On April 1, 2025, the Company physically settled in full the Forward Sale Agreements by delivering 11,338,028 shares of the Company's common stock to the Forward Purchaser. The Company received net proceeds from such sale of shares of the Company's common stock and full physical settlement of the Forward Sale Agreements, before expenses, of approximately $385.0 million.

Share Repurchase Program

Share repurchase activity is evaluated based on the Company's capital deployment priorities and is subject to market, economic, and regulatory considerations. Share repurchases may be executed through either open market transactions or privately negotiated transactions, including pursuant to a trading plan in accordance with Rule 10b5-1 and/or Rule 10b-18 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. On May 5, 2026, the Company's Board of Directors authorized a share repurchase program (the "Repurchase Program") to purchase up to $250.0 million of the Company's common stock through May 5, 2027.

The cost of treasury stock repurchases include applicable federal excise tax imposed on certain stock repurchases under the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022. The excise tax is recognized as an additional cost of repurchased shares and recorded as a reduction of stockholders' equity.

Under the Repurchase Program, the Company repurchased approximately 265 thousand shares of common stock for $10.0 million at an average purchase price of $37.76 during the three and six months ended June 30, 2026. As of June 30, 2026, approximately $240.0 million remained available for purchase under the Repurchase Program. The Company did not have an active share repurchase program during 2025.

Series A Preferred Stock

The Company has 6,900,000 depositary shares outstanding, each representing a 1/400th ownership interest in a share of its Series A preferred stock, with a liquidation preference of $10 thousand per share of Series A preferred stock (equivalent to $25 per depositary share), including 900 thousand depositary shares pursuant to the exercise in full by the underwriters of their option to purchase additional depositary shares. Series A preferred stock dividends, if declared by the Board or a fully authorized committee of the Board, are paid by the Company in arrears on the first business day of March, June, September, and December of each year at a rate of 6.875% per annum.

10. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

The Company follows ASC 820, Fair Value Measurement, to record fair value adjustments to certain assets and liabilities and to determine fair value disclosures. ASC 820 clarifies that fair value of certain assets and liabilities is an exit price, representing the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between willing market participants.

ASC 820 specifies a hierarchy of valuation techniques based on whether the inputs to those valuation techniques are observable or unobservable. Observable inputs reflect market data obtained from independent sources, while unobservable inputs reflect the Company's market assumptions. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under ASC 820 based on these two types of inputs are as follows:

Level 1 Valuation is based on quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities.

Level 2 Valuation is based on observable inputs including quoted prices in active markets for similar assets and liabilities, quoted prices for identical or similar assets and liabilities in less active markets, and model-based valuation techniques for which significant assumptions can be derived primarily from or corroborated by observable data in the markets.

Level 3 Valuation is based on model-based techniques that use one or more significant inputs or assumptions that are unobservable in the market. These unobservable inputs reflect the Company's assumptions about what market participants would use and information that is reasonably available under the circumstances without undue cost and effort.

Assets and Liabilities Measured at Fair Value on a Recurring Basis

The following describes the valuation techniques used by the Company to measure certain financial assets and liabilities recorded at fair value on a recurring basis in the financial statements.

- AFS Securities: AFS securities are recorded at fair value on a recurring basis. The Company's investment portfolio is primarily valued using fair value measurements that are considered to be Level 2. The Company has contracted with a third-party portfolio accounting service vendor for valuation of its securities portfolio; no material differences were identified during the valuation for periods ended June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025. The carrying value of restricted FRB and FHLB stock approximates fair value based on the redemption provisions of each entity and is therefore excluded from the table below.
- Loans Held for Sale: Residential loans originated for sale in the open market are carried at fair value. Fair value is based on the price secondary markets are currently offering for similar loans using observable market data which is not materially different than cost due to the short duration between origination and sale (Level 2). Gains and losses on the sale of loans are recorded in current period earnings as a component of "Mortgage banking income" on the Company's Consolidated Statements of Income.
- Derivative Instruments: The Company records derivative instruments at fair value on a recurring basis. The Company utilizes derivative instruments as part of the management of interest rate risk to modify the re-pricing characteristics of certain portions of the Company's interest-bearing assets and liabilities, as well as to manage the Company's exposure to credit risk related to the borrower's performance under interest rate derivatives. The Company has contracted with a third-party vendor to provide valuations for derivatives using standard techniques based on observable market inputs and therefore classifies such valuations as Level 2. Third-party valuations are validated by the Company using the Bloomberg Valuation Service's derivative pricing functions. The Company determines the fair value of rate lock commitments, delivery contracts, and forward sales contracts of MBS by measuring the change in the value of the underlying asset, while taking into consideration the probability that the rate lock commitments will close or be funded. No significant differences were identified during the valuations as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025. The Company has considered counterparty credit risk in the valuation of its derivative assets and has considered its own credit risk in the valuation of its derivative liabilities.

Assets and Liabilities Measured at Fair Value on a Nonrecurring Basis

Certain assets are measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis in accordance with GAAP, only when there is evidence of impairment or other triggering events and typically include LHFS, foreclosed properties, impaired long lived assets including bank premises, collateral dependent loans that are individually assessed for credit purposes, and impaired other intangibles. Adjustments to the fair value of these assets usually result from the application of lower-of-cost-or-market accounting or write-downs of individual assets after they are evaluated for impairment. When the asset is secured by real estate, the Company measures the fair value utilizing an income or market valuation approach based on an appraisal conducted by an independent, licensed appraiser using observable market data. Management may discount the value from the appraisal in determining the fair value if, based on its understanding of the market conditions, the collateral had been impaired below the appraised value (Level 3). The nonrecurring valuation adjustments for these assets did not have a significant impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

The following tables summarize the Company's financial assets that were measured on a nonrecurring basis as of the periods ended (dollars in thousands):

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

ASC 825, Financial Instruments, requires disclosure about fair value of financial instruments for interim periods and excludes certain financial instruments and all non-financial instruments from its disclosure requirements. Accordingly, the aggregate fair value amounts presented may not necessarily represent the underlying fair value of the Company.

- Cash and Cash Equivalents: The carrying amount is a reasonable estimate of fair value.
- HTM Securities: The Company's investment portfolio is primarily valued using fair value measurements that are considered to be Level 2; however, there are a few investments that are considered to be Level 3. The Company has contracted with a third-party portfolio accounting service vendor for valuation of its securities portfolio; no material differences were identified during the valuations as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.
- Loans and Leases: The fair value of loans and leases were estimated using an exit price, representing the amount that would be expected to be received if the Company sold the loans and leases. The fair value of performing loans and leases were estimated through use of discounted cash flows. Credit loss assumptions were based on market probability of default/loss given default for loan and lease cohorts. The discount rate was based primarily on recent market origination rates. Fair value of loans and leases individually assessed and their respective levels within the fair value hierarchy are described in the previous section related to fair value measurements of assets that are measured on a nonrecurring basis.
- Accrued Interest: The carrying amounts of accrued interest approximate fair value.
- Bank Owned Life Insurance: The carrying value of BOLI approximates fair value. The Company records these policies at their cash surrender value, which is estimated using information provided by insurance carriers.
- Deposits: The fair value of demand deposits, savings accounts, brokered deposits, and certain money market deposits is the amount payable on demand at the reporting date. The fair value of certificates of deposits were valued using a discounted cash flow calculation that includes a market rate analysis of the current rates offered by market participants for certificates of deposits that mature in the same period.
- Borrowings: The carrying amounts of federal funds purchased, securities sold under repurchase agreements and any other short-term borrowings approximate their fair value. The fair values of the Company's long-term borrowings, including trust preferred securities are estimated using discounted cash flow analyses, based on the current incremental borrowing rates for similar types of borrowing arrangements.

The carrying values and estimated fair values of the Company's financial instruments as of the periods ended are as follows (dollars in thousands):

The Company assumes interest rate risk (the risk that general interest rate levels will change) as a result of its normal operations. As a result, the fair values of the Company's financial instruments will change when interest rate levels change and that change may be either favorable or unfavorable to the Company. Management attempts to match maturities of assets and liabilities to the extent believed necessary to minimize interest rate risk. Borrowers with fixed rate obligations, however, are less likely to prepay in a rising rate environment and more likely to prepay in a falling rate environment. Conversely, depositors who are receiving fixed rates are more likely to withdraw funds before maturity in a rising rate environment and less likely to do so in a falling rate environment. Management monitors rates and maturities of assets and liabilities and attempts to minimize interest rate risk by adjusting terms of new loans and deposits and by investing in securities with terms that mitigate the Company's overall interest rate risk.

11. INCOME TAXES

The Company's effective tax rate was 21.3% for the quarter ended June 30, 2026, compared to (13.2%) for the quarter ended June 30, 2025. For the six months ended June 30, 2026 and June 30, 2025, the effective tax rates were 21.1% and 11.9%, respectively. The increase in the effective tax rate during the 2026 periods was primarily driven by an $8.0 million income tax benefit recognized in the second quarter of 2025 related to the re-evaluation of the Company's state net deferred tax asset following the Sandy Spring acquisition.

As of each reporting date, the Company considers existing evidence, both positive and negative, that could impact the Company's view regarding the future realization of deferred tax assets. The Company's valuation allowance was $5.8 million and $7.8 million as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. The decrease in the valuation allowance was from an assessment of the Company's ability to realize certain state tax attributes, through an increase in state taxable income.

The Company analyzed the tax positions taken or expected to be taken on its tax returns for the periods ending December 31, 2025, 2024, and 2023, and concluded the Company had no material liability related to uncertain tax positions.

12. EARNINGS PER SHARE

Basic EPS is computed by dividing net income available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted EPS is computed using the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period, including the effect of dilutive potential common shares outstanding attributable to stock awards and incremental shares related to the Forward Sale Agreements, while excluding any anti-dilutive weighted shares outstanding. Refer to Note 9 "Stockholders' Equity" within this Item 1 of this Quarterly Report for more information on the Forward Sale Agreements.

The following table presents basic and diluted EPS calculations for the three and six months ended June 30, (dollars in thousands except per share data):

Dividends

On July 23, 2026, the Company's Board of Directors declared a quarterly dividend on the outstanding shares of its Series A preferred stock. The Series A preferred stock is represented by depositary shares, each representing a 1/400th ownership interest in a share of Series A preferred stock. The dividend of $171.88 per share (equivalent to $0.43 per outstanding depositary share) is payable on September 1, 2026 to preferred shareholders of record as of August 17, 2026.

The Company's Board of Directors also declared a quarterly dividend of $0.37 per share of common stock. The common stock dividend is payable on August 21, 2026 to common shareholders of record as of August 7, 2026.

Share Repurchase Program

As discussed in Note 9 "Stockholders' Equity", the Company has an active Repurchase Program. Subsequent to the quarter ended June 30, 2026, as part of the Repurchase Program, approximately 132 thousand shares (or $5.6 million) were repurchased between July 1, 2026 and August 6, 2026. As of August 6, 2026, the Company is authorized under the Repurchase Program to repurchase approximately $234.4 million of additional shares of the Company's common stock.

Subordinated Debt

On July 30, 2026, the Company issued $250.0 million of subordinated notes ("2036 Subordinated Notes") due August 1, 2036 with a fixed-to-floating rate of 6.25%. The 2036 Subordinated Notes converts to a floating rate based on three-month SOFR, plus 213 bps on August 1, 2031.

Net proceeds from the issuance, after underwriting discounts and offering expenses, were approximately $246.9 million and are expected to be used to repay the 2029 Subordinated Notes, acquired as part of the Sandy Spring acquisition, plus accrued interest, and for general corporate purposes. The Company issued a notice of redemption during the third quarter of 2026 to redeem the 2029 Subordinated Notes with an aggregate principal amount of $168.0 million. The Company expects the redemption to occur; however, the redemption remains subject to customary conditions, and the Company reserves the right to withdraw, delay, or revoke the notice if such conditions are not satisfied or market conditions warrant.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Shareholders and the Board of Directors of Atlantic Union Bankshares Corporation

Results of Review of Interim Financial Statements

We have reviewed the accompanying consolidated balance sheet of Atlantic Union Bankshares Corporation and subsidiaries (the Company) as of June 30, 2026, the related consolidated statements of income, comprehensive income (loss), and changes in stockholders' equity for the three and six-month periods ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, the consolidated statements of cash flows for the six-month periods ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, and the related notes (collectively referred to as the "consolidated interim financial statements"). Based on our reviews, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the consolidated interim financial statements for them to be in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

We have previously audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB), the consolidated balance sheet of the Company as of December 31, 2025, the related consolidated statements of income, comprehensive income (loss), changes in stockholders' equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes (not presented herein); and in our report dated February 26, 2026, we expressed an unqualified audit opinion on those consolidated financial statements. In our opinion, the information set forth in the accompanying consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2025, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the consolidated balance sheet from which it has been derived.

Basis for Review Results

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. We are a public accounting firm registered with the PCAOB and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the SEC and the PCAOB. We conducted our review in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. A review of interim financial statements consists principally of applying analytical procedures and making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. It is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

ITEM 2 – MANAGEMENT’S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following discussion and analysis provides information about the major components of our results of operations, financial condition, liquidity, and capital resources. This discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with our “Consolidated Financial Statements,” our “Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements,” and the other financial data included in this report, as well as our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025 (the “2025 Form 10-K”), including the section entitled “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” section therein. Our results of operations for the interim periods are not necessarily indicative of results that may be expected for the full year or for any other period. Amounts are rounded for presentation purposes; however, some of the percentages presented are computed based on unrounded amounts.

In the following discussion and analysis, we provide certain financial information determined by methods other than in accordance with GAAP. These non-GAAP financial measures are a supplement to GAAP, which we use to prepare our financial statements, and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for comparable measures calculated in accordance with GAAP. In addition, our non-GAAP financial measures may not be comparable to non-GAAP financial measures of other companies. We use the non-GAAP financial measures discussed herein in our analysis of our performance. Management believes that these non-GAAP financial measures provide additional understanding of our ongoing operations, enhance the comparability of our results of operations with prior periods and show the effects of significant gains and charges in the periods presented without the impact of items or events that may obscure trends in our underlying performance. Non-GAAP financial measures may be identified with the symbol ⁽⁺⁾ and may be labeled as adjusted. Refer to the “Non-GAAP Financial Measures” section within this Item 2 for more information about these non-GAAP financial measures, including a reconciliation of these measures to the most directly comparable GAAP financial measures.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain statements in this Quarterly Report may constitute “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements are statements that include, without limitation, statements regarding our strategic expansion into North Carolina; statements regarding our future ability to recognize the benefits of certain tax assets; business, financial and operating results, including our deposit base and funding; the impact of changes in economic conditions, the interest rate environment, economic, fiscal or trade policy and the potential related impacts on our business and loan demand; management’s beliefs regarding our liquidity, capital resources, asset quality, CRE loan portfolio and our customer relationships; and statements that include other projections, predictions, expectations, or beliefs about future events or results or otherwise are not statements of historical fact. Such forward-looking statements are based on certain assumptions as of the time they are made, and are inherently subject to known and unknown risks, uncertainties, and other factors, some of which cannot be predicted or quantified, that may cause actual results, performance, or achievements to be materially different from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are often characterized by the use of qualified words (and their derivatives) such as “expect,” “believe,” “estimate,” “plan,” “project,” “anticipate,” “intend,” “will,” “may,” “view,” “opportunity,” “seek to,” “potential,” “continue,” “confidence,” or words of similar meaning or other statements concerning opinions or judgment of the Company and our management about future events. Although we believe that our expectations with respect to forward-looking statements are based upon reasonable assumptions within the bounds of our existing knowledge of our business and operations, there can be no assurance that actual future results, performance, or achievements of, or trends affecting, us will not differ materially from any projected future results, performance, achievements or trends expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Actual future results, performance, achievements or trends may differ materially from historical results or those anticipated depending on a variety of factors, including, but not limited to, the effects of or changes in

- market interest rates and their related impacts on macroeconomic conditions, customer and client behavior, our funding costs and our loan and securities portfolios;
- economic conditions, including inflation and recessionary conditions and their related impacts on economic growth and customer and client behavior;
- U.S. and global trade policies and tensions, including changes in, or the imposition of, tariffs and/or trade barriers and the economic impacts, volatility and uncertainty resulting therefrom, and geopolitical instability;
- volatility in the financial services sector, including failures or rumors of failures of other depository institutions, along with actions taken by governmental agencies to address such turmoil, and the effects on the ability of depository institutions, including us, to attract and retain depositors and to borrow or raise capital;

Table of Contents

- legislative or regulatory changes and requirements, including changes in federal, state or local tax laws and changes impacting the rulemaking, supervision, examination and enforcement priorities of the federal banking agencies;
- the sufficiency of liquidity and changes in our capital position;
- general economic and financial market conditions, in the United States generally and particularly in the markets in which we operate and which our loans are concentrated, including the effects of declines in real estate values, an increase in unemployment levels, U.S. fiscal debt, budget, and tax matters, U.S. government shutdowns, and slowdowns in economic growth;
- the possibility that the anticipated benefits of our acquisition activity, including anticipated cost savings and strategic gains, are not realized when expected or at all, including as a result of the strength of the economy, competitive factors in the areas where we do business, or as a result of other unexpected factors or events;
- potential adverse reactions or changes to business or employee relationships;
- our ability to identify, recruit and retain key employees;
- monetary, fiscal and regulatory policies of the U.S. government, including policies of the U.S. Department of the Treasury and the Federal Reserve;
- the quality or composition of our loan or investment portfolios and changes in these portfolios;
- demand for loan products and financial services in our market areas;
- our ability to manage our growth or implement our growth strategy;
- the effectiveness of expense reduction plans;
- the introduction of new lines of business or new products and services;
- real estate values in our lending area;
- changes in accounting principles, standards, rules, and interpretations, and the related impact on our financial statements;
- an insufficient ACL or volatility in the ACL resulting from the CECL methodology, either alone or as that may be affected by changing economic conditions, credit concentrations, inflation, changing interest rates, or other factors;
- concentrations of loans secured by real estate, particularly CRE;
- the effectiveness of our credit processes and management of our credit risk;
- our ability to compete in the market for financial services and increased competition from fintech companies;
- technological risks and developments, and cyber threats, attacks, or events;
- emerging issues related to the development and use of artificial intelligence that could give rise to legal or regulatory action or increase the risk of a cybersecurity attack or the probability that such an attack would be successful;
- operational, technological, cultural, regulatory, legal, credit, and other risks associated with the exploration, consummation and integration of potential future acquisitions, whether involving stock or cash consideration;
- the potential adverse effects of unusual and infrequently occurring events, such as weather-related disasters, terrorist acts, geopolitical conflicts or public health events (such as pandemics), and of governmental and societal responses thereto; these potential adverse effects may include, without limitation, adverse effects on macroeconomic conditions, the ability of our borrowers to satisfy their obligations to us, on the value of collateral securing loans, on the demand for our loans or our other products and services, on supply chains and methods used to distribute products and services, on incidents of cyberattack and fraud, on our liquidity or capital positions, on risks posed by reliance on third-party service providers, on other aspects of our business operations and on financial markets and economic growth;
- performance by our counterparties or vendors;
- deposit flows;
- the availability of financing and the terms thereof;
- the level of prepayments on loans and mortgage-backed securities;
- actual or potential claims, damages, and fines related to litigation or government actions, which may result in, among other things, additional costs, fines, penalties, restrictions on our business activities, reputational harm, or other adverse consequences;
- any event or development that would cause us to conclude that there was an impairment of any asset, including intangible assets, such as goodwill; and
- other factors, many of which are beyond our control.

More information on factors that could affect our forward-looking statements is discussed throughout Part I, Item 1A. “Risk Factors” and Part II, Item 7. “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” of the 2025 Form 10-K and related disclosures in other filings, which have been filed with the SEC and are available on the SEC’s website at www.sec.gov. All risk factors and uncertainties described herein and therein should be considered in evaluating forward-looking statements, and all of the forward-looking statements made in this Quarterly Report are expressly qualified by the cautionary statements contained or referred to herein and therein. The actual results or developments anticipated may not be realized or, even if substantially realized, they may not have the expected consequences to or effects on the Company or our businesses or operations. Readers are cautioned not to rely too heavily on the forward-looking statements contained in this Quarterly Report. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made. We do not intend or assume any obligation to update, revise or clarify any forward-looking statements that may be made from time to time by or on behalf of the Company, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as required by law.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

We prepare our consolidated financial statements based on the application of accounting and reporting policies in accordance with GAAP and general practices within the banking industry. Our financial position and results of operations are affected by management's application of accounting policies, which require the use of estimates, assumptions, and judgments, which may prove inaccurate or are subject to variations. Changes in underlying factors, estimates, assumptions or judgments could result in material changes in our consolidated financial position and/or results of operations.

Certain accounting policies inherently have a greater reliance on the use of estimates, assumptions and judgments and, as such, have a greater possibility of producing results that could be materially different than originally reported. We have identified the allowance for loan and lease losses, fair value measurements, and valuation of deferred tax assets as accounting policies that require the most difficult, subjective or complex judgments and, as such, could be most subject to revision as new or additional information becomes available or circumstances change. Therefore, we evaluate these accounting policies and related critical accounting estimates on an ongoing basis and update them as needed. Management has discussed these accounting policies and the critical accounting estimates summarized below with the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors.

We provide additional information about our critical accounting estimates in "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Critical Accounting Estimates" in our 2025 Form 10-K.

Our significant accounting policies are discussed in Note 1 "Summary of Significant Accounting Policies" in the "Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements" contained in Item 8 "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" of our 2025 Form 10-K.

Effective January 1, 2026, the Company made certain changes to its allowance methodology as part of the continued enhancement of its credit modeling practices, resulting in more dynamic and precise modeling that allow for more granularity in the monitoring of our expected credit losses. As a result of this change, the Company moved from two loan portfolio segments (Commercial and Consumer) to three portfolio segments (CRE, Commercial and Industrial, and Consumer), by reorganizing the former Commercial segment into the CRE and Commercial and Industrial segments, with no changes made to the Consumer segment. The Company also updated its modeling approach to use either a loan-level probability of default/loss given default methodology or a segment level loss rate model for its loan portfolio. The ALLL is estimated using quantitative methods that consider a variety of factors from both internal and external sources at the loan, portfolio, and macroeconomic environment levels. These changes were accounted for prospectively as a change in accounting estimate in the first quarter of 2026, did not have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements, and resulted in no changes to previously reported values. For more information on these changes, see Note 1 "Summary of Significant Accounting Policies" in Part I, Item 1 of this Quarterly Report.

For information regarding our prior allowance methodology, see Note 1 "Summary of Significant Accounting Policies" in the "Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements" contained in Item 8 "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" of our 2025 Form 10-K.

RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS (ISSUED BUT NOT FULLY ADOPTED)

In November 2024, the FASB issued ASU No. 2024-03 Income Statement—Reporting Comprehensive Income—Expense Disaggregation Disclosures. This guidance requires enhanced disclosure of income statement expenses. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2027. ASU No. 2024-03 is not expected to have an impact on our financial condition or results of operations but could change certain disclosures in our SEC filings.

In September 2025, the FASB issued ASU No. 2025-06 Intangibles—Goodwill and Other—Internal-Use Software (Subtopic 350-40): Targeted Improvements to the Accounting for Internal-Use Software, which outlined targeted improvements to Subtopic 350-40 to increase the operability of the recognition guidance considering different methods of software development. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2027, and interim reporting periods within those annual reporting periods. ASU No. 2025-06 is not expected to have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements.

In September 2025, the FASB issued ASU No. 2025-07 Derivatives and Hedging (Topic 815) and Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606): Derivatives Scope Refinements and Scope Clarification for Share-Based Noncash Consideration from a Customer in a Revenue Contract. The update to Topic 815 outlined the addition of derivative scope exceptions with underlyings that are based on the operations or activities of one of the parties to the contract. The update to Topic 606 clarified the applicability of Topic 606 and its interaction with other Topics. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026, and interim reporting periods within those annual reporting periods. ASU No. 2025-07 is not expected to have an impact on our consolidated financial statements.

In November 2025, the FASB issued ASU No. 2025-08 Financial Instruments – Credit Losses (Topic 326): Purchased Loans. This update expanded the population of acquired financial assets subject to the gross-up approach in Topic 326. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026, and interim reporting periods within those annual reporting periods. ASU No. 2025-08 is not expected to have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements at adoption; however, the amendments in this update will be applied prospectively to loans that are acquired on or after the adoption date.

In November 2025, the FASB issued ASU No. 2025-09 Derivatives and Hedging (Topic 815): Hedge Accounting Improvements. This update clarified certain aspects of the guidance on hedge accounting. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026, and interim reporting periods within those annual reporting periods. ASU No. 2025-09 is not expected to have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements.

In December 2025, the FASB issued ASU No. 2025-11 Interim Reporting (Topic 270): Narrow Scope Improvements. This update improved the navigability of the required interim disclosures and clarified when that guidance is applicable. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2027, and interim reporting periods within those annual reporting periods. ASU No. 2025-11 is not expected to have an impact on our consolidated financial statements but could have an impact on interim disclosures.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Strategic Actions

Bearing Insurance Sale

We completed the sale of our equity interest (held by our indirect subsidiary, Union Insurance Group, LLC) in Bearing Insurance to an unaffiliated third party, effective May 1, 2026, resulting in a pre-tax gain of approximately $32.3 million during the second quarter of 2026.

Repurchase Program

During the second quarter of 2026, our Board of Directors authorized the Repurchase Program to purchase up to $250.0 million of our common stock through May 5, 2027 in open market transactions or privately negotiated transactions, including pursuant to a trading plan in accordance with Rule 10b5-1 and/or Rule 10b-18 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”). As part of the Repurchase Program, approximately 265 thousand common shares (or $10.0 million) were repurchased during the second quarter of 2026 at an average purchase price of $37.76. At June 30, 2026, approximately $240.0 million of share repurchases remained available under the Repurchase Program.

Subordinated Notes Issuance

In July 2026, we issued $250.0 million in aggregate principal amount of 2036 Subordinated Notes due 2036 at public offering price equal to 100% of the aggregate principal amount of the 2036 Subordinated Notes. The 2036 Subordinated Notes qualify for Tier 2 capital treatment. The proceeds of this issuance will be used to redeem $168.0 million of our 2029 Subordinated Notes during the third quarter of 2026 and for general business purposes.

Economic Environment and Industry Events

We are continually monitoring the impact of various global and national events on our results of operations and financial condition, including changes in economic conditions, such as inflation and recessionary conditions, changes in the unemployment rate, changes in market interest rates, geopolitical conflicts, deposit competition, liquidity strains, changes in government policy, including changes in, or the imposition of, tariffs and/or trade barriers, and changes in legislative or regulatory requirements. The timing and impact of such events on our results of operations and financial condition will depend on future developments, which are highly uncertain and difficult to predict.

In the first half of 2026, financial markets experienced increased and prolonged economic uncertainty arising from international conflicts, including those in the Middle East, and changes in the unemployment rate. These factors could adversely affect the U.S. and global economies and financial markets, including by increasing inflation and leading to a slowdown of future economic growth and ultimately recessionary conditions.

In June 2026, the FOMC maintained the target range for the Federal Funds rate at 3.50% to 3.75%. The FOMC noted that economic activity is expanding at a solid pace despite elevated uncertainty due in part to ongoing geopolitical conflicts including those in the Middle East, as well as uncertainties stemming from changes in trade policy. In light of this continued uncertainty and elevated inflation, it is difficult to predict how the Federal Reserve will balance possible inflationary pressure with the potential of slower economic growth and rising risks in employment.

We will continue to deploy various asset liability management strategies to seek to manage our risk related to interest rate fluctuations and monitor balance sheet trends, deposit flows, and liquidity needs to enable us to meet the needs of our customers and maintain financial flexibility. Refer to “Liquidity” within this Item 2 for additional information about our liquidity and “Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk” in Part I, Item 3 of this Quarterly Report for additional information about our interest rate sensitivity.

Our regulatory capital ratios continued to exceed the standards to be considered well-capitalized under regulatory requirements. See “Capital Resources” within this Item 2 for additional information about our regulatory capital.

SUMMARY OF FINANCIAL RESULTS

Executive Overview

Second Quarter Net Income & Performance Metrics

- Net income available to common shareholders was $158.0 million and basic and diluted EPS was $1.11 for the second quarter of 2026, compared to net income available to common shareholders of $16.8 million and basic and diluted EPS of $0.12 for the second quarter of 2025.
- Adjusted operating earnings available to common shareholders⁽⁺⁾, which excludes (net of taxes, where applicable), merger-related costs ($63.3 million in the second quarter 2025), the CECL Day 1 non-PCD loans and RUC provision expense ($77.7 million in the second quarter of 2025), gain on the sale of equity interest in CSP ($10.7 million in the second quarter of 2025), gain on CRE loan sale ($12.1 million in the second quarter of 2025), gain on the sale of equity interest in Bearing Insurance ($24.0 million in the second quarter of 2026), and gains on the sale of securities ($3 thousand in the second quarter 2026 and $12 thousand in the second quarter 2025) was $134.0 million and adjusted diluted operating EPS⁽⁺⁾ was $0.94 for the second quarter of 2026, compared to adjusted operating earnings available to common shareholders⁽⁺⁾ of $135.1 million and diluted adjusted operating EPS⁽⁺⁾ of $0.95 for the second quarter of 2025.

First Six Months Net Income & Performance Metrics

- Net income available to common shareholders was $277.2 million and basic and diluted EPS was $1.95 for the first six months of 2026, compared to net income available to common shareholders of $63.7 million and basic and diluted EPS of $0.55 for the first six months of 2025.
- Adjusted operating earnings available to common shareholders⁽⁺⁾, which excludes (net of taxes, where applicable), merger-related costs ($7.0 million in 2026 and $68.0 million in 2025), the CECL Day 1 non-PCD loans and RUC provision expense ($77.7 million in 2025), gain on the sale of equity interest in Bearing Insurance ($24.0 million in 2026), gain on CRE loan sale ($12.1 million in 2025), gain on the sale of equity interest in CSP ($10.7 million in 2025), and gains and losses on the sale of securities (gains of $5 thousand in 2026 and loss of $67 thousand in 2025) was $260.2 million and adjusted diluted operating EPS⁽⁺⁾ was $1.83 for the six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to adjusted operating earnings available to common shareholders⁽⁺⁾ of $186.7 million and diluted adjusted operating EPS⁽⁺⁾ of $1.61 for the first six months of 2025.

Balance Sheet

- Total assets were $38.1 billion at June 30, 2026, an increase of $514.1 million or 2.8% (annualized) from December 31, 2025. The increase in total assets was primarily due to increases in LHFIs, partially offset by decreases in securities as maturity and paydown cash flows were used to fund higher loan balances instead of being reinvested in the securities portfolio.
- LHFIs were $28.7 billion at June 30, 2026, an increase of $877.1 million from December 31, 2025 or 6.4% (annualized), primarily due to increases in the commercial and industrial and construction and land development portfolios.
- Total securities were $4.9 billion at June 30, 2026, a decrease of $326.7 million or 12.5% (annualized) from December 31, 2025, primarily due to principal repayments of AFS mortgage-backed securities. AFS securities totaled $3.9 billion at June 30, 2026 and $4.2 billion at December 31, 2025. At June 30, 2026, total net unrealized losses on the AFS securities portfolio were $317.1 million, an increase of $21.4 million from $295.7 million at December 31, 2025. HTM securities are carried at cost and totaled $860.9 million at June 30, 2026, compared to $884.2 million at December 31, 2025 and had net unrealized losses of $29.1 million at June 30, 2026, an increase of $1.7 million from $27.4 million at December 31, 2025.
- Total deposits were $30.5 billion at June 30, 2026, a decrease of $3.4 million or 0.02% (annualized) from December 31, 2025, which was primarily due to a decline in brokered and demand deposits, partially offset by an increase in interest-bearing customer deposits.
- Total borrowings were $1.9 billion at June 30, 2026, an increase of $384.0 million or 51.7% (annualized) from December 31, 2025, primarily driven by increases in FHLB advances, included within other short-term borrowings, which were used primarily to fund loan originations.

NET INTEREST INCOME

Net interest income, which represents our principal source of revenue, is the amount by which interest income exceeds interest expense. Our net interest margin represents net interest income expressed as a percentage of average earning assets. Changes in the volume and mix of interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities, as well as their respective yields and rates, have a significant impact on our net interest income, net interest margin, and net income. In addition, our net interest income includes the accretion of discounts on our acquired loans, as well as amortization of deposits and borrowings, which will also affect our net interest income and net interest margin.

We seek to fund increased loan volumes by growing our core deposits, but, subject to internal policy limits on the amount of wholesale funding, we may use other wholesale funding sources to fund shortfalls, if any, or provide additional liquidity.

The following tables show interest and dividend income on earning assets and related average yields, as well as interest expense on interest-bearing liabilities and related average rates paid for the three months ended June 30, (dollars in thousands):

	For the Three Months Ended
	2026	2025	Change

Net interest income (FTE) ⁽⁺⁾	$ 329,679	$ 325,733	$ 3,946
Net interest margin	3.89 %	3.78 %	11 bps
Net interest margin (FTE) ⁽⁺⁾	3.94 %	3.83 %	11 bps

For the second quarter of 2026, our net interest income was $325.1 million, an increase of $3.7 million from the second quarter of 2025, and our net interest income (FTE) ⁽⁺⁾ was $329.7 million, an increase of $4.0 million from the second quarter of 2025. The increases were primarily the result of lower cost of funds, primarily due to lower deposit costs, partially offset by lower earning asset yields, primarily driven by a decrease in loan yields and lower accretion income. The lower deposit costs reflect the impact of the Federal Reserve lowering the Federal Funds rates 75 bps between September and December 2025, as well as reduced brokered deposits, while the decline in earning asset yields was primarily driven by the lower rate environment.

In the second quarter of 2026, our net interest margin increased 11 bps to 3.89% from 3.78% in the second quarter of 2025, and our net interest margin (FTE) ⁽⁺⁾ increased 11 bps to 3.94% in the second quarter of 2026 from 3.83% for the same period of 2025. The increases in net interest margin and net interest margin (FTE) ⁽⁺⁾ were primarily driven by lower cost of funds, partially offset by lower earning asset yields. Our cost of funds decreased 28 bps to 1.94% from 2.22% in the second quarter of 2025, due to lower cost of deposits, primarily due to the Federal Funds rate cuts discussed above, as well as reduced brokered deposits. Our earning asset yield decreased 18 bps to 5.82% for the second quarter of 2026 from 6.00% in the second quarter of 2025, due primarily to lower loan yields and lower accretion income.

Net interest margin	3.84 %	3.62 %	22	bps
Net interest margin (FTE) ⁽⁺⁾	3.90 %	3.68 %	22	bps

For the first six months of 2026 net interest income was $637.5 million, an increase of $132.0 million from the same period of 2025, and our net interest income (FTE)⁽⁺⁾ was $646.6 million, an increase of $132.9 million from the same period of 2025. The increases in both net interest income and net interest income (FTE)⁽⁺⁾ were primarily the result of a $5.3 billion increase in average interest earning assets and higher net accretion income, partially offset by a $3.9 billion increase in average interest-bearing liabilities, primarily related to the acquisition of Sandy Spring.

For the first six months of 2026, our net interest margin and net interest margin (FTE)⁽⁺⁾ both increased 22 bps to 3.84% and 3.90%, respectively, compared to the first six months of 2025. The increases were primarily driven by lower cost of funds, as well as lower yield on interest-earning assets. Our cost of funds decreased 30 bps to 1.93% from 2.23% in the same period of 2025, due primarily to lower cost of deposits, reflecting the impact of the Federal Reserve lowering the Federal Funds rates 75 bps between September and December 2025, as well as reduced brokered deposits. Our earning asset yield decreased 7 bps to 5.78% for the first six months of 2026 from 5.85% in the same period of 2025, due primarily to lower loan yields, partially offset by accretion income related to the Sandy Spring acquisition.

Our net interest margin and net interest margin (FTE)⁽⁺⁾ includes the impact of acquisition accounting fair value adjustments. The impact of accretion and amortization for the periods presented are reflected in the following table (dollars in thousands):

	Loan	Deposit	Borrowings	Total

NM = Not Meaningful

Our noninterest income increased $8.7 million or 10.7% to $90.2 million for the quarter ended June 30, 2026, compared to the quarter ended June 30, 2025. The increase was primarily driven by a $4.8 million increase in loan-related interest rate swap fees due to an increase in transaction volumes associated with loan growth in the period, a $3.7 million increase in fiduciary and asset management fees, reflecting an increase in assets under management, and a $1.9 million increase in other operating income. Other operating income in the second quarter of 2026 included a $32.3 million pre-tax gain on the sale of our equity interest in Bearing Insurance, while the second quarter of 2025 included a $15.7 million pre-tax gain on CRE loan sale and a $14.3 million pre-tax gain on the sale of our equity interest in CSP.

Our adjusted operating noninterest income,⁽⁺⁾ which excludes the pre-tax gain on sale of equity interest in Bearing Insurance ($32.3 million in the second quarter of 2026), the pre-tax gain on CRE loan sale ($15.7 million in the second quarter of 2025), the pre-tax gain on sale of equity interest in CSP ($14.3 million in the second quarter of 2025), and the pre-tax gains on sale of securities ($4 thousand in the second quarter of 2026 and $16 thousand in the second quarter of 2025), increased $6.4 million or 12.4% to $57.9 million for the quarter ended June 30, 2026, compared to the quarter ended June 30, 2025. The increase in adjusted operating noninterest income⁽⁺⁾ was primarily driven by a $4.8 million increase in loan-related interest rate swap fees and a $3.7 million increase in fiduciary and asset management fees, both discussed above. These increases were partially offset by a $1.6 million decrease in BOLI income, reflecting lower death benefit proceeds received compared to the same period in the prior year.

Our noninterest income increased $34.3 million or 31.0% to $145.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily due to the full period impact of the Sandy Spring acquisition, which drove the majority of the $17.2 million increase in fiduciary and asset management fees and the $2.5 million increase in service charges on deposit accounts. In addition to the acquisition impacts, other operating income increased $6.8 million driven by a $32.3 million pre-tax gain on the sale of our equity interest in Bearing Insurance in the second quarter of 2026 and an increase in equity method investment income, partially offset by a $15.7 million pre-tax gain on CRE loan sale and a $14.3 million pre-tax gain on sale of our equity interest in CSP, both of which occurred in the second quarter of 2025. Additionally, loan-related interest rate swap fees increased $6.3 million due to an increase in transaction volumes associated with loan growth in the period.

Our adjusted operating noninterest income,⁽⁺⁾ which excludes the pre-tax gain on sale of equity interest in Bearing Insurance ($32.3 million in 2026), the pre-tax gain on CRE loan sale ($15.7 million in 2025), the pre-tax gain on sale of equity interest in CSP ($14.3 million in 2025), and the pre-tax gains and losses on sale of securities (gains of $6 thousand in 2026 and losses of $87 thousand in 2025), increased $31.9 million or 39.5% to $112.7 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase in adjusted operating noninterest income⁽⁺⁾ was primarily due to the full period impact of the Sandy Spring acquisition and a $6.3 million increase in loan-related interest rate swap fees, as discussed above, as well a $4.5 million increase in other operating income, primarily due to an increase in equity method investment income.

Our noninterest expense decreased $80.6 million or 28.8% to $199.1 million for the quarter ended June 30, 2026, compared to the quarter ended June 30, 2025, primarily driven by a $78.9 million decrease in pre-tax merger-related costs.

Our adjusted operating noninterest expense⁽⁺⁾, which excludes merger-related costs ($78.9 million in the second quarter of 2025) and amortization of intangible assets ($15.1 million in the second quarter of 2026 and $18.4 million in the second quarter of 2025) increased $1.6 million or 0.9% to $184.0 million for the quarter ended June 30, 2026, compared to the quarter ended June 30, 2025. The increase in adjusted operating noninterest expense⁽⁺⁾ was primarily due to a $2.4 million increase in salaries and benefits expense, primarily due to an increase in variable incentive compensation, a $1.7 million increase in other expenses, a $1.7 million increase in marketing and advertising expense, and a $1.4 million increase in loan-related expenses. These increases were partially offset by a $2.0 million decrease in FDIC assessment premiums and other insurance due to a lower assessment in the second quarter of 2026, a $1.7 million decrease in professional services related to strategic projects that occurred in the prior year, and a $1.2 million decrease in technology and data processing expense primarily due to a decrease in online banking expenses, reflecting cost synergies realized from the Sandy Spring acquisition.

Our noninterest expense decreased $4.9 million or 1.2% to $408.9 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily driven by a $74.8 million decrease in pre-tax merger-related costs, partially offset by a $40.4 million increase in salaries and benefits expense, as well as other increases in noninterest expense categories discussed below, primarily due to the full period impact of the Sandy Spring acquisition.

Our adjusted operating noninterest expense⁽⁺⁾, which excludes merger-related costs ($9.0 million in 2026 and $83.8 million in 2025) and amortization of intangible assets ($30.6 million in 2026 and $23.8 million in 2025) increased $63.1 million or 20.6% to $369.3 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase in adjusted operating noninterest expense⁽⁺⁾ was primarily due to the full period impact of the Sandy Spring acquisition, which drove the majority of the $40.4 million increase in salaries and benefits expense, the $5.9 million increase in marketing and advertising expense, the $5.0 million increase in other expenses, the $4.7 million increase in occupancy expenses, the $4.2 million increase in technology and data processing expense, and the $3.0 million increase in loan-related expenses.

SEGMENT RESULTS

The Company has two reportable operating segments, Wholesale Banking and Consumer Banking, with corporate support functions and intercompany eliminations being presented within Corporate Other. For more information about our operating segments, see Note 13, “Segment Reporting and Revenue” in Part I, Item 1 of this Quarterly Report.

Wholesale Banking

Our Wholesale Banking segment provides loan, leasing, deposit, treasury management, and capital market services to wholesale customers primarily throughout Virginia, Maryland, Washington, D.C., North Carolina, and South Carolina. These customers include CRE and commercial and industrial customers. This segment also includes our equipment finance subsidiary, which has nationwide exposure. The wealth management business also resides in the Wholesale Banking segment which provides a wide variety of financial planning, wealth management and trust services to individuals and corporations.

The following table presents operating results for the three and six months ended June 30, for the Wholesale Banking segment (dollars in thousands):

	Three Months Ended		Six Months Ended
	2026	2025	2026	2025
Interest and dividend income	$ 441,685	$ 443,315	$ 867,804	$ 740,302
Interest expense	278,650	284,936	543,892	482,583
Net interest income	163,035	158,379	323,912	257,719
Provision for credit losses	5,381	80,022	5,660	95,067
Net interest income after provision for credit losses	157,654	78,357	318,252	162,652
Noninterest income	32,866	23,652	61,810	35,451
Noninterest expense	90,954	84,593	184,744	139,805
Income before income taxes	$ 99,566	$ 17,416	$ 195,318	$ 58,298

Wholesale Banking income before income taxes increased by $82.2 million and $137.0 million, respectively, for the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to the three and six months ended June 30, 2025. The increases were primarily due to decreases in the provision for credit losses, primarily driven by the Day 1 initial provision expense recorded in the prior year on non-PCD loans and unfunded commitments, each acquired from Sandy Spring. Wholesale Banking net interest income also increased for the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to the same periods in the prior year. The increase for the three months ended June 30, 2026 was primarily the result of lower cost of funds, driven by lower deposit costs. The increase for the six months ended June 30, 2026 was primarily the result of an increase in average interest earning assets and higher net accretion income, primarily related to the acquisition of Sandy Spring. In addition, Wholesale Banking noninterest income increased for the three and six months ended June 30, 2026 compared to the same periods in the prior year, primarily due to increases in fiduciary and asset management fees, reflecting an increase in assets under management and the full period impact of the Sandy Spring acquisition, and increases in loan-related interest rate swap fees due to an increase in transaction volumes associated with loan growth in the periods.

The increases in income before income taxes were partially offset by increases in noninterest expense, primarily due to increases in salaries and benefits expense, resulting from an increase in variable incentive compensation for the three months ended June 30, 2026 and the full period impact of the Sandy Spring acquisition for the six months ended June 30, 2026.

The following table presents the key balance sheet metrics as of the periods ended for the Wholesale Banking segment (dollars in thousands):

	June 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
LHFI, net of unearned income	$ 23,837,961	$ 23,179,687
Total deposits	12,025,991	11,339,236

At June 30, 2026, LHFI for the Wholesale Banking segment increased $658.3 million to $23.8 billion, compared to December 31, 2025, primarily due to increases in the commercial and industrial and construction and land development loan portfolios.

At June 30, 2026, Wholesale Banking deposits increased $686.8 million to $12.0 billion, compared to December 31, 2025, primarily due to an increase in interest-bearing customer deposits.

Consumer Banking

Our Consumer Banking segment provides loan and deposit services and retail brokerage services to consumers and small businesses throughout Virginia, Maryland, Washington, D.C., and North Carolina. Consumer Banking includes the home loan division and investment management and advisory services businesses.

The following table presents operating results for the three and six months ended June 30, for the Consumer Banking segment (dollars in thousands):

	Three Months Ended		Six Months Ended
	2026	2025	2026	2025
Interest and dividend income	$ 236,853	$ 248,482	$ 468,085	$ 404,624

Net interest income	109,125	112,851	218,274	188,634
Provision for credit losses	5,690	25,685	7,698	28,278
Net interest income after provision for credit losses	103,435	87,166	210,576	160,356
Noninterest income	19,093	19,661	37,445	34,295
Noninterest expense	105,635	98,515	210,631	166,082
Income before income taxes	$ 16,893	$ 8,312	$ 37,390	$ 28,569

Consumer Banking income before income taxes increased $8.6 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026, compared to the three months ended June 30, 2025. The increase was primarily due to a decrease in the provision for credit losses, primarily driven by the Day 1 initial provision expense recorded in the prior year on non-PCD loans and unfunded commitments, each acquired from Sandy Spring.

The increase in income before income taxes for the three months ended June 30, 2026 was partially offset by an increase in noninterest expense, primarily due to an increase in salaries and benefits expense, resulting from an increase in variable incentive compensation, and a decrease in net interest income driven by an unfavorable funding credit on deposits.

Consumer Banking income before income taxes increased $8.8 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to the six months ended June 30, 2025. The increase was primarily due to an increase in net interest income, driven by an increase in average interest earning assets and higher net accretion income, primarily related to the acquisition of Sandy Spring. In addition, the Consumer Banking provision for credit losses decreased compared to the same period in the prior year, primarily driven by the Day 1 initial provision expense recorded in the prior year on non-PCD loans and unfunded commitments, each acquired from Sandy Spring. Consumer Banking noninterest income also increased compared to the same period in the prior year, primarily due to the Sandy Spring acquisition, which drove the majority of the increase in fiduciary and asset management fees and service charges on deposit accounts.

The increases in income before income taxes for the six months ended June 30, 2026 were partially offset by an increase in noninterest expense, primarily due to an increase in salaries and benefits expense, resulting from the full period impact of the Sandy Spring acquisition.

The following table presents the key balance sheet metrics as of the periods ended for the Consumer Banking segment (dollars in thousands):

	June 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
LHFI, net of unearned income	$ 5,452,570	$ 5,317,949
Total deposits	17,697,300	17,820,026

At June 30, 2026, LHFI for the Consumer Banking segment increased $134.6 million to $5.5 billion, compared to December 31, 2025, primarily due to increases in the residential 1-4 family – consumer and residential 1-4 family – revolving loan portfolios.

At June 30, 2026, Consumer Banking deposits decreased $122.7 million to $17.7 billion, compared to December 31, 2025, primarily due to decreases in savings accounts, demand deposits, and money market accounts, partially offset by an increase in time deposits.

Corporate Other

Our Corporate Other segment includes the corporate support functions, such as corporate treasury functions, which include management of the investment securities portfolio, long-term debt, short-term liquidity and funding activities, as well as intercompany eliminations.

The following table presents operating results for the three and six months ended June 30, for the Corporate Other segment (dollars in thousands):

	Three Months Ended		Six Months Ended

⁽¹⁾ We use a funds transfer pricing methodology for our net interest income which utilizes the matched funding approach to allocate the cost of funds used or credit for funds provided to all operating loans and deposits, resulting in interest and dividend expense and interest income for our Corporate Other segment.

Corporate Other income before income taxes increased by $96.3 million and $134.3 million, respectively, for the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, primarily due to decreases in noninterest expense, primarily driven by decreases in pre-tax merger-related costs. In addition, Corporate Other net interest income for the six months ended June 30, 2026 increased compared to the same period in the prior year, primarily driven by an increase in average interest earning assets and higher accretion income, primarily related to the acquisition of Sandy Spring.

INCOME TAXES

Our provision for income taxes is based on our results of operations, adjusted for the effect of certain tax-exempt income and non-deductible expenses. In addition, we report certain items of income and expense in different periods for financial reporting and tax return purposes. We recognize the tax effects of these temporary differences in the deferred income tax provision or benefit. Deferred tax assets or liabilities are computed based on the difference between the financial statements and income tax bases of assets and liabilities using the applicable enacted marginal tax rate. As of each reporting date, we consider existing evidence, both positive and negative, that could impact our view regarding our future realization of deferred tax assets.

Our effective tax rate was 21.3% for the quarter ended June 30, 2026, compared with (13.2%) for the quarter ended June 30, 2025. For the six months ended June 30, 2026 and June 30, 2025, our effective tax rates were 21.1% and 11.9%, respectively. The increase in the effective tax rate during the 2026 periods was primarily driven by an $8.0 million income tax benefit recognized in the second quarter of 2025 related to the re-evaluation of our state net deferred tax asset following the Sandy Spring acquisition.

As of each reporting date, we consider existing evidence, both positive and negative, that could impact our view regarding our future realization of deferred tax assets. The decrease in the valuation allowance was from an assessment of our ability to realize certain state tax attributes, through an increase in state taxable income.

DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION

Assets

At June 30, 2026, we had total assets of $38.1 billion, an increase of $514.1 million or 2.8% (annualized) from December 31, 2025. The increase in total assets was primarily due to increases in LHFI, partially offset by decreases in securities as maturity and paydown cash flows were used to fund higher loan balances instead of being reinvested in the securities portfolio.

LHFI totaled $28.7 billion at June 30, 2026, an increase of $877.1 million or 6.4% (annualized) from December 31, 2025, primarily due to increases in the commercial and industrial and construction and land development loan portfolios. Refer to "Loan Portfolio" within this Item 2 and Note 4 "Loans and Allowance for Loan and Lease Losses" in Part I, Item 1 of this Quarterly Report for additional information on our loan activity.

Total securities at June 30, 2026 were $4.9 billion, a decrease of $326.7 million or 12.5% (annualized) from December 31, 2025, primarily due to principal repayments and maturities of AFS mortgage-back securities. AFS securities totaled $3.9 billion at June 30, 2026, compared to $4.2 billion at December 31, 2025, with net unrealized losses of $317.1 million and $295.7 million, respectively. HTM securities totaled $860.9 million at June 30, 2026, compared to $884.2 million at December 31, 2025, with net unrealized losses of $29.1 million and $27.4 million, respectively.

Liabilities and Stockholders' Equity

At June 30, 2026, we had total liabilities of $32.9 billion, an increase of $367.1 million or 2.3% (annualized) from December 31, 2025, primarily due to an increase in short-term borrowings, partially offset by a decrease in total deposits.

Total borrowings at June 30, 2026 were $1.9 billion, an increase of $384.0 million or 51.7% (annualized) from December 31, 2025, primarily driven by increases in FHLB advances, included within other short-term borrowings, which were used primarily to fund loan originations. Refer to Note 6 "Borrowings" in Part I, Item 1 of this Quarterly Report for additional information on our borrowing activity.

Total deposits at June 30, 2026 were $30.5 billion, a decrease of $3.4 million or 0.02% (annualized) from December 31, 2025, which was primarily due to decline in brokered and demand deposits, partially offset by an increase in interest-bearing customer deposit balances. Refer to "Deposits" within this Item 2 for additional information on this topic.

At June 30, 2026, our stockholders' equity was $5.2 billion, an increase of $147.0 million from December 31, 2025, primarily due to an increase in retained earnings, partially offset by an increase in accumulated other comprehensive losses. Our consolidated regulatory capital ratios continue to exceed the minimum capital requirements and are considered "well-capitalized" for regulatory purposes. Refer to "Capital Resources" within this Item 2, as well as Note 9 "Stockholders' Equity" in Part I, Item 1 of this Quarterly Report for additional information on our capital resources and the Forward Sale Agreements.

For information related to the Company's stock repurchase activity and the Repurchase Program, refer to Note 9 "Stockholders' Equity" and Note 14 "Subsequent Events" in Part I, Item 1, as well as "Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds" in Part II, Item 2 of this Quarterly Report.

During the second quarter of 2026, we declared and paid a quarterly dividend on our outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock of $171.88 per share (equivalent to $0.43 per outstanding depository share), consistent with the first quarter of 2026 and the second quarter of 2025. During the second quarter of 2026, we also declared and paid cash dividends of $0.37 per common share, consistent with the first quarter of 2026 and an increase of $0.03 per share or 8.8% from the second quarter of 2025.

SECURITIES

At June 30, 2026, we had total securities of $4.9 billion or 13.0% of total assets, compared to $5.3 billion or 14.0% of total assets at December 31, 2025. This decrease was primarily due to principal repayments and maturities of AFS mortgage-backed securities. We seek to diversify our investment portfolio to minimize risk, and we focus on purchasing MBS for cash flow and reinvestment opportunities and securities issued by states and political subdivisions due to the tax benefits and the higher tax-equivalent yield offered from these securities. The majority of our MBS are agency-backed securities, which have a government guarantee. For information regarding the hedge transaction related to AFS securities, see Note 8 “Derivatives” in Part I, Item 1 of this Quarterly Report.

⁽¹⁾ Yields on tax-exempt securities have been computed on an estimated tax-equivalent basis.

Weighted average yield is calculated as the tax-equivalent yield on a pro rata basis for each security based on its relative amortized cost.

As of June 30, 2026, we maintained a diversified municipal bond portfolio with approximately 64% of our holdings in general obligation issues and the remainder primarily backed by revenue bonds. Issuances within the State of Texas represented 20% of the total municipal portfolio; no other state had a concentration above 10%. Substantially all of our municipal holdings are considered investment grade. When purchasing municipal securities, we focus on strong underlying ratings for general obligation issuers or bonds backed by essential service revenues.

LIQUIDITY

Liquidity represents an institution's ability to meet present and future financial obligations through either the sale or maturity of existing assets or the acquisition of additional funds through liability management. Our largest source of liquidity on a consolidated basis is our customer deposit base generated by our wholesale and consumer businesses. These deposits provide relatively stable and low-cost funding. Total deposits at June 30, 2026 were $30.5 billion, a decrease of $3.4 million or 0.02% (annualized) from December 31, 2025, primarily due to a decline in brokered and demand deposits, partially offset by an increase in interest-bearing customer deposits. Refer to "Deposits" within this Item 2 for additional information on this topic.

We actively manage the composition and timing of our liquidity resources based on expected cash flows, market conditions, funding costs, and balance-sheet objectives. During the first six months of 2026, we utilized liquidity generated from the securities portfolio and increased short-term borrowings to support near-term funding needs. These actions resulted in a lower securities portfolio balance and higher short-term borrowings at June 30, 2026. Management continues to evaluate the duration and cost of these borrowings, the availability of collateral, and the remaining borrowing capacity.

We also closely monitor changes in the industry and market conditions that may impact our liquidity and will use other borrowing means or other liquidity and funding strategies sources to fund our liquidity needs as needed. We also closely track the potential impacts on our liquidity from declines in the fair value of our securities portfolio due to changing market interest rates and developments in the banking industry that may change the availability of traditional sources of liquidity or market expectations with respect to available sources and amounts of additional liquidity.

We consider our liquid assets to include cash, interest-bearing deposits with banks, money market investments, federal funds sold, LHFS, and securities and loans maturing or re-pricing within one year. As of June 30, 2026, our liquid assets totaled $13.3 billion or 35.0% of total assets, and liquid earning assets totaled $12.8 billion or 37.6% of total earning assets. We also provide asset liquidity by managing loan and securities maturities and cash flows. As of June 30, 2026, loan payments of approximately $11.6 billion or 40.5% of total LHF1 are expected within one year based on contractual terms, adjusted for expected prepayments, and approximately $706.1 million or 14.3% of total investments as of June 30, 2026 are scheduled to be paid down within one year based on contractual terms, adjusted for expected prepayments.

Additional sources of liquidity available to us include our capacity to borrow additional funds when necessary through federal funds lines with several correspondent banks, a line of credit with the FHLB, the Federal Reserve Discount Window, the purchase of brokered certificates of deposit, a corporate line of credit with a large correspondent bank, and debt and capital issuances. We also maintain secured borrowing capacity with the FHLB and FRB since secured borrowing facilities provide the most reliable sources of funding, especially during times of market turbulence and financial distress. Management believes our overall liquidity to be sufficient to satisfy our depositors' requirements and to meet our customers' credit needs.

For additional information and the available balances on various lines of credit, please refer to Note 6 "Borrowings" in Part I, Item 1 of this Quarterly Report. In addition to lines of credit, we may also borrow additional funds by purchasing certificates of deposit through a nationally recognized network of financial institutions.

Cash Requirements

Our cash requirements, outside of lending transactions, consist primarily of borrowings, leases, debt and capital instruments, which are used as part of our overall liquidity and capital management strategy. We expect that the cash required to repay these obligations will be sourced from our general liquidity sources and future debt and capital issuances and from other general liquidity sources as described above.

The following table presents our contractual obligations related to our major cash requirements and the scheduled payments due at the various intervals over the next year and beyond as of June 30, 2026 (dollars in thousands):

	Total	Less than 1 year	More than 1 year
Subordinated debt ⁽¹⁾	$ 608,000	$ —	$ 608,000

⁽¹⁾ Excludes related unamortized premium/discount and interest payments.

⁽²⁾ Represents lease payments due on non-cancellable operating leases at June 30, 2026. Excluded from these tables are variable lease payments or renewals.

For more information pertaining to the previous table, reference Note 5 "Leases" and Note 6 "Borrowings" in Part I, Item 1 of this Quarterly Report.

Off-Balance Sheet Obligations

In the normal course of business, we are party to financial instruments with off-balance sheet risk to meet the financing needs of our customers and to reduce our own exposure to fluctuations in interest rates. These financial instruments include commitments to extend credit and letters of credit. These instruments involve elements of credit and interest rate risk in excess of the amount recognized in our Consolidated Balance Sheets. The contractual amounts of these instruments reflect the extent of our involvement in particular classes of financial instruments.

Our exposure to credit loss in the event of nonperformance by the other party to the financial instruments for commitments to extend credit and letters of credit is represented by the contractual amount of these instruments. We use the same credit policies in making commitments and conditional obligations as we do for on-balance sheet instruments. Unless noted otherwise, we do not require collateral or other security to support off-balance sheet financial instruments with credit risk.

For a summary of our total commitments with off-balance sheet risk see Note 7 "Commitments and Contingencies" in Part I, Item 1 of this Quarterly Report.

We are also a lessor in sales-type and direct financing leases for equipment, as noted in Note 5 "Leases" in Part I, Item 1 of this Quarterly Report. Our future commitments related to the aforementioned leases totaled $795.1 million and $712.8 million, respectively, at June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

Impact of Inflation and Changing Prices

Our financial statements included in Item I “Financial Statements” of this Quarterly Report have been prepared in accordance with GAAP, which requires the financial position and operating results to be measured principally in terms of historic dollars without considering the change in the relative purchasing power of money over time due to inflation. Inflation affects our results of operations mainly through increased operating costs, but since nearly all of our assets and liabilities are monetary in nature, changes in interest rates generally affect our financial condition to a greater degree than changes in the rate of inflation. Inflation also leads to increased costs for our customers, which may make it difficult for them to repay their loans, potentially leading to increased delinquencies, increased volume of loan modifications, financial losses, and increased credit risk for us. Although interest rates are greatly influenced by changes in the inflation rate, they do not necessarily change at the same rate or in the same magnitude as the inflation rate. Management reviews pricing of our products and services, in light of current and expected costs due to inflation, to seek to mitigate the inflationary impact on our financial performance.

LOAN PORTFOLIO

LHFI totaled $28.7 billion and $27.8 billion as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. CRE loans represented our largest loan portfolio segment at both June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025. We remain committed to originating soundly underwritten loans to qualifying borrowers within our markets.

The following table presents the remaining maturities, based on contractual maturity, by loan type, and by rate type (variable or fixed), net of unearned income, as of June 30, 2026 (dollars in thousands):

Our highest concentration of credit by loan type is in CRE. CRE loans consist of term loans secured by a mortgage lien on the real property and include both non-owner occupied and owner occupied CRE loans, as well as construction and land development, multifamily real estate, residential 1-4 family – commercial, and other commercial (farmland) loans. CRE loans are generally viewed as having more risk of default than residential real estate loans and depend on cash flows from the owner’s business or the property’s tenants to service the debt. The borrower’s cash flows may be affected significantly by general economic conditions, a downturn in the local economy, or in occupancy rates in the market where the property is located, any of which could increase the likelihood of default.

We perform risk assessments to identify the CRE concentration ratio based on the two-tiered guidelines issued by the federal banking regulators. The loan balances used to determine the CRE concentration ratio are as defined in the Call Report instructions, which is comprised of loans secured by 1-4 family residential construction loans, loans secured by other construction loans and all land development and other land loans, loans secured by multi-family residential properties, loans secured by other nonfarm non-residential properties, and loans to finance CRE, construction, and land development activities, and do not necessarily match the balances displayed in Note 4 “Loans and Allowance for Loan and Lease Losses” in Part I, Item 1 of this Quarterly Report.

The two-tiered guidelines include (i) total reported loans for construction, land development, and other land represent 100 percent or more of the institution's total capital; or (ii) total CRE loans represent 300 percent or more of the institution's total capital, and the outstanding balance of the institution's CRE loan portfolio has increased by 50 percent or more during the prior 36 months.

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, our construction and land development concentration as a percentage of capital totaled 42.4% and 39.2%, respectively, and our CRE concentration as a percentage of capital totaled 273.9% and 275.3%, respectively. Total CRE exposure increased 92.7% for the 36-month period ended June 30, 2026, primarily due to the Sandy Spring acquisition.

We seek to mitigate risks attributable to our most highly concentrated portfolios and our portfolios that pose unique risks to our balance sheet through our credit underwriting and monitoring processes, including oversight by a centralized credit administration function, approval process, credit policy, and risk management committee, as well as through our seasoned bankers that focus on lending to borrowers with proven track records in markets that we are familiar with. All construction lending risk is controlled by a centralized construction loan servicing department that independently reviews and approves each draw request, including assessing on-going budget adequacy, and monitors project completion milestones. When underwriting CRE loans, we require collateral values in excess of the loan amounts, cash flows in excess of expected debt service requirements, and equity investment in the project. As part of the CRE loan origination process, we also stress test loan interest rates and occupancy rates to determine the impact of different economic conditions on the borrower's ability to maintain appropriate debt service.

We manage our CRE exposure through product type limits, individual loan-size limits for CRE product types, client relationship limits, and transactional risk acceptance criteria, as well as other techniques, including but not limited to, loan syndications/participations, collateral, guarantees, structure, covenants, and other risk reduction techniques. Our CRE loan policies are specific to individual product types and underwriting parameters vary depending on the risk profile of each asset class. We evaluate risk concentrations regularly in our CRE portfolio on both an aggregate portfolio level and on an individual client basis and regularly review and adjust as appropriate our lending strategies and CRE product-specific approach to underwriting in light of market conditions and our overall corporate strategy and initiatives.

The average loan size in our CRE portfolio was $1.3 million and $1.2 million as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively, and the median loan size in our CRE portfolio was $317 thousand and $311 thousand as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

The following table presents the composition of our CRE loan categories, including the industry classification for CRE non-owner occupied loans, and CRE loans as a percentage of total loans for the periods ended (dollars in thousands):

Because payments on loans secured by commercial and multifamily properties are often dependent on the successful operation or management of the properties, repayment of these loans may be subject to adverse conditions in the real estate market or the economy. In particular, the repayment of loans secured by non-owner occupied commercial properties depend primarily on the tenant's continuing ability to pay rent to the property owner, who is our borrower, or, if the property owner is unable to find a tenant, the property owner's ability to repay the loan without the benefit of a rental income stream. If the cash flow from the project is reduced, or if leases are not obtained or renewed, the borrower's ability to repay the loan may be impaired. Due to these risks, we proactively monitor our non-owner occupied CRE and multifamily real estate exposures and evaluate these portfolios against our established lending policies, and we believe this monitoring and evaluation helps ensure that these portfolios are geographically diverse and granular. We do not currently monitor owner-occupied CRE loans based on geographical markets as the primary source of repayment for these loans is predicated on the cash flow from the underlying operating entity, which is generally less dependent on conditions in the relevant CRE market. These loans are generally located within our geographical footprint and are generally distributed across industries.

The following table presents the distribution of our CRE non-owner occupied, multifamily real estate, and office portfolio loans by market location based on the underlying loan collateral for the periods ended (dollars in thousands):

We continue to monitor our exposure to office space, within our non-owner occupied CRE portfolio. We do not currently finance large, high-rise, or major metropolitan central business district office buildings, and the office portfolio is generally in suburban markets with stronger occupancy levels than downtown office markets. The average loan size in our office portfolio was $2.2 million and $2.1 million as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively, and the median loan size in our office portfolio was $744 thousand and $720 thousand as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. The average loan size in our multifamily real estate portfolio was $3.7 million and $3.6 million as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively, and the median loan size in our multifamily real estate portfolio was $888 thousand and $843 thousand as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

We also continue to monitor the broader commercial lending environment, including developments affecting non-depository financial institutions (“NDFI”). Our exposures to NDFIs represent a limited portion of our other commercial (other) loans. This small portfolio of loans to NDFIs is comprised almost entirely of facilities that help fund private equity group lending to businesses. Our exposure consists of granular downstream credits held as collateral with each facility controlled with specific conservative advance rates and concentration percentages and low maximum loan amounts per credit.

ASSET QUALITY

Overview

At June 30, 2026, NPAs as a percentage of LHFI totaled 0.39%, a decrease of 3 basis points from December 31, 2025. Accruing past due loans as a percentage of total LHFI totaled 0.28% at June 30, 2026, a decrease of 13 basis points from December 31, 2025. Net charge-offs were $3.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to net charge-offs of $2.9 million for the same period in the prior year.

Our ACL at June 30, 2026 increased $9.7 million to $331.0 million from December 31, 2025, comprised of an ALLL of $298.8 million and RUC of $32.2 million.

We continue to refrain from originating or purchasing loans from foreign entities, and we selectively originate loans to higher risk borrowers. Our loan portfolio generally does not include exposure to option adjustable-rate mortgage products, high loan-to-value ratio mortgages, interest only mortgage loans, subprime mortgage loans, or mortgage loans with initial teaser rates, which are all considered higher risk instruments.

Nonperforming Assets

At June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, NPAs totaled $112.7 million and $116.9 million, respectively, representing a decrease of $4.2 million. Our NPAs as a percentage of total LHFI at June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025 were 0.39% and 0.42%, respectively. The decrease in NPAs was primarily due to the resolutions of certain Sandy Spring acquired PCD loans, which resulted in measurement period adjustments being recorded during the first quarter of 2026 associated with the Sandy Spring acquisition, based on additional information and evidence obtained by the Company relating to events or circumstances existing at the acquisition date. This decrease in NPAs was partially offset by certain previously delinquent loans within the commercial and industrial loan portfolio that were placed on nonaccrual status during the six months ended June 30, 2026.

Past Due Loans

At June 30, 2026, past due LHFI still accruing interest totaled $80.4 million or 0.28% of total LHFI, compared to $113.0 million or 0.41% of total LHFI at December 31, 2025. The decrease in past due LHFI of $32.6 million was primarily within the commercial and industrial and residential 1-4 family - consumer loan portfolios. Of the total past due LHFI still accruing interest, $33.7 million or 0.12% of total LHFI were loans past due 90 days or more at June 30, 2026, compared to $35.6 million or 0.13% of total LHFI at December 31, 2025.

Troubled Loan Modifications

We had TLMs with an amortized cost basis of $8.9 million and $18.1 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026 and June 30, 2025, respectively, and $25.6 million and $20.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026 and June 30, 2025, respectively. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, there were no material unfunded commitments on loans modified and designated as TLMs.

Net Charge-offs

For the three months ended June 30, 2026, net charge-offs were $2.0 million or 0.03% (annualized) of total average LHFI, compared to net charge-offs of $666 thousand or 0.01% (annualized) for the three months ended June 30, 2025. For the six months ended June 30, 2026, net charge-offs were $3.6 million or 0.03% (annualized) of total average LHFI, compared to net charge-offs of $2.9 million or 0.03% (annualized) for the six months ended June 30, 2025.

Provision for Credit Losses

We recorded a provision for credit losses of $11.7 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026, a decrease of $94.0 million compared to $105.7 million recorded during the three months ended June 30, 2025. For the six months ended June 30, 2026, we recorded a provision for credit losses of $14.5 million, a decrease of $108.8 million compared to $123.3 million recorded during the six months ended June 30, 2025. Included in the provision for credit losses for the three and six months ended June 30, 2025 was $89.5 million of Day 1 initial provision expense on non-PCD loans and $11.4 million on unfunded commitments, each acquired from Sandy Spring.

Allowance for Credit Losses

Effective January 1, 2026, we made certain changes to our allowance methodology as part of the continued enhancement of our credit modeling practices, resulting in more dynamic and precise modeling that allows for more granularity in the monitoring of our expected credit losses. As a result of this change, we moved from two loan portfolio segments (Commercial and Consumer) to three portfolio segments (CRE, Commercial and Industrial, and Consumer), by reorganizing the former Commercial segment into the CRE and Commercial and Industrial segments, with no changes made to the Consumer segment. The allowance methodology changes were accounted for prospectively as a change in accounting estimate in the first quarter of 2026, did not have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements, and resulted in no changes to previously reported values. Prior year tables do not reflect the change in methodology effective January 1, 2026. See Note 1 “Summary of Significant Accounting Policies” in Part I, Item 1 of this Quarterly Report for additional information on the change in methodology.

At June 30, 2026, the ACL was $331.0 million and included an ALLL of $298.8 million and a RUC of $32.2 million. The ACL at June 30, 2026 increased $9.7 million from December 31, 2025, primarily reflecting the reserve build associated with the loan portfolio growth during the second quarter of 2026.

At June 30, 2026, the ACL as a percentage of total LHFI remained relatively consistent at 1.15%, compared to 1.16% at December 31, 2025. The ALLL as a percentage of total LHFI decreased by 2 basis points, from 1.06% at December 31, 2025 to 1.04% at June 30, 2026. The RUC coverage ratio increased 1 basis point from December 31, 2025 to 0.11% at June 30, 2026.

The following table summarizes the ACL as of the periods ended (dollars in thousands):

	June 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Total ALLL	$ 298,756	$ 295,108
Total RUC	32,227	26,161
Total ACL	$ 330,983	$ 321,269

The ALLL for the combined CRE and Commercial and Industrial segments as of June 30, 2026 increased by $1.4 million as compared to Commercial segment from December 31, 2025. The ALLL for the Consumer segment as of June 30, 2026 increased by $2.2 million as compared to the ALLL from December 31, 2025. The increases were primarily due to the reserve build associated with the loan portfolio growth during the second quarter of 2026.

DEPOSITS

As of June 30, 2026, our total deposits were $30.5 billion, a decrease of $3.4 million or 0.02% (annualized) from December 31, 2025, primarily due to lower brokered and demand deposits, partially offset by an increase in interest-bearing customer deposits. Total interest-bearing deposits consisted of interest checking accounts, money market accounts, savings accounts, time deposits, and brokered deposits. Our total time deposit balances with customers totaled $6.0 billion and accounted for 25.8% of total interest-bearing customer deposits at June 30, 2026, compared to $5.7 billion and 25.3%, respectively, at December 31, 2025. We seek to fund increased loan volumes by growing core deposits, but, subject to internal policy limits on the amount of wholesale funding we may maintain, we may use wholesale funding sources to fund shortfalls, if any, or provide additional liquidity. We use brokered deposits purchased through nationally recognized networks as part of our overall liquidity management strategy on an as needed basis. As of June 30, 2026, brokered deposits totaled $557.8 million, down from $1.1 billion at December 31, 2025.

The following table presents the deposit balances, including brokered deposits, by major category as of the periods ended (dollars in thousands):

	June 30, 2026		December 31, 2025

CAPITAL RESOURCES

Capital resources represent funds, earned or obtained, over which financial institutions can exercise greater or longer control in comparison with deposits and borrowed funds. Our management reviews our capital adequacy on an ongoing basis with reference to size, composition, and quality of our resources and consistency with regulatory requirements and industry standards. We seek to maintain a capital structure that will assure an appropriate level of capital to support anticipated asset growth and to absorb potential losses, while allowing us to effectively leverage our capital to maximize return to shareholders.

On May 5, 2026, we announced that our Board of Directors authorized the Repurchase Program to purchase up to $250.0 million of the Company's common stock through May 5, 2027 in open market transactions or privately negotiated transactions, including pursuant to a trading plan in accordance with Rule 10b5-1 and/or Rule 10b-18 under the Exchange Act. For information about the Company's stock repurchase activity and the Repurchase Program, please refer to Note 9 "Stockholders' Equity" in Part I, Item 1 and Part II, Item 2 of this Quarterly Report.

On July 23, 2026, we announced that our Board of Directors declared a quarterly dividend on our outstanding shares of our Series A preferred stock. The dividend of $171.88 per share (equivalent to $0.43 per outstanding depository share) is payable on September 1, 2026 to preferred shareholders of record as of August 17, 2026. Our Board of Directors also declared a quarterly dividend of $0.37 per share of common stock, which is payable on August 21, 2026 to common shareholders of record as of August 7, 2026.

Under the Basel III capital rules, we must comply with the following minimum capital ratios: (i) a common equity Tier 1 capital ratio of 7.0% of risk-weighted assets; (ii) a Tier 1 capital ratio of 8.5% of risk-weighted assets; (iii) a total capital ratio of 10.5% of risk-weighted assets; and (iv) a leverage ratio of 4.0% of total assets. These ratios, with the exception of the leverage ratio, include a 2.5% capital conservation buffer, which is designed to absorb losses during periods of economic stress. Banking institutions with a ratio of common equity Tier 1 to risk-weighted assets above the minimum but below the conservation buffer will face constraints on dividends, equity repurchases, and compensation based on the amount of the shortfall. In March 2026, the Federal Reserve, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and FDIC issued three proposals that would implement the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision's 2017 revisions to the Basel III capital rules (the "Basel III endgame"). These proposals are intended to streamline capital requirements and better align regulatory capital with risk while maintaining the safety and soundness of the banking system, and if finalized as proposed, would primarily affect the largest banking organizations. The Company has reviewed these proposed rules and, if these rules are adopted as proposed, the Company estimates that its regulatory capital ratios would improve compared to current levels.

NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

In this Quarterly Report, we have provided supplemental performance measures determined by methods other than in accordance with GAAP. These non-GAAP financial measures are a supplement to GAAP, which is used to prepare our financial statements, and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for comparable measures calculated in accordance with GAAP. In addition, our non-GAAP financial measures may not be comparable to non-GAAP financial measures of other companies. We use the non-GAAP financial measures discussed herein in our analysis of our performance. Management believes that these non-GAAP financial measures provide additional understanding of ongoing operations, enhance the comparability of our results of operations with prior periods and show the effects of significant gains and charges in the periods presented without the impact of items or events that may obscure trends in our underlying performance.

We believe interest and dividend income (FTE), which is used in computing yield on interest-earning assets (FTE), provides valuable additional insight into the yield on interest-earning assets (FTE) by adjusting for differences in the tax treatment of interest income sources. We believe net interest income (FTE) and total revenue (FTE), which are used in computing net interest margin (FTE), provide valuable additional insight into the net interest margin by adjusting for differences in the tax treatment of interest income sources. The entire FTE adjustment is attributable to interest income on earning assets, which is used in computing the yield on earning assets. Interest expense and the related cost of interest-bearing liabilities and cost of funds ratios are not affected by the FTE components.

The following table reconciles non-GAAP financial measures from the most directly comparable GAAP financial measures for the three and six months ended June 30, (dollars in thousands):

Tangible assets and tangible common equity are used in the calculation of certain profitability, capital, and per share ratios. We believe tangible assets, tangible common equity and the related ratios are meaningful measures of capital adequacy because they provide a meaningful base for period-to-period and company-to-company comparisons, which we believe will assist investors in assessing our capital and our ability to absorb potential losses. We believe tangible common equity is an important indication of our ability to grow organically and through business combinations as well as our ability to pay dividends and to engage in various capital management strategies.

ITEM 3 – QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Interest Rate Sensitivity

Market risk is the risk of loss arising from adverse changes in the fair value of financial instruments due to changes in interest rates, exchange rates, and equity prices. Our market risk is composed primarily of interest rate risk. Our asset liability management committee is responsible for reviewing our interest rate sensitivity position and establishing policies to monitor and limit exposure to this risk. Our Board of Directors reviews and approves the policies established by our asset liability management committee.

We monitor interest rate risk using three complementary modeling tools: static gap analysis, earnings simulation modeling, and economic value simulation (net present value estimation). Each of these models measures changes in a variety of interest rate scenarios. While each of the interest rate risk models has limitations, taken together, they represent a reasonably comprehensive view of the magnitude of our interest rate risk, the distribution of risk along the yield curve, the level of risk through time, and the amount of exposure to changes in certain interest rate relationships. We use the static gap analysis, which measures aggregate re-pricing values, less often because it does not effectively consider the optionality embedded into many assets and liabilities and, therefore, we do not address it here. We use earnings simulation and economic value simulation models on a regular basis, which more effectively measure the cash flow and optionality impacts, and these models are discussed below.

We determine the overall magnitude of interest sensitivity risk and then we create policies and practices governing asset generation and pricing, funding sources and pricing, and off-balance sheet commitments. These policies and practices are based on management's expectations regarding future interest rate movements, the states of the national, regional and local economies, and other financial and business risk factors. We use simulation modeling to measure and monitor the effect of various interest rate scenarios and business strategies on our net interest income. This modeling reflects interest rate changes and the related impact on net interest income and net income over specified time horizons.

Earnings Simulation Modeling

Management uses earnings simulation modeling to measure the sensitivity of our net interest income to changes in interest rates. The model calculates an earnings estimate based on current and projected balances and rates. This method is subject to the accuracy of the assumptions that underlie the process, but we believe it provides a better analysis of the sensitivity of earnings to changes in interest rates than other analyses, such as the static gap analysis noted above.

We derive the assumptions used in the model from historical trends and management's outlook, including expected loan growth, loan prepayment rates, projected loan origination spreads, deposit growth rates, changes to deposit product betas and non-maturity deposit decay rates, and projected yields and rates. These assumptions may not be realized and unanticipated events and circumstances may also occur that cause the assumptions to be inaccurate. The model also does not take into account any future actions of management to mitigate the impact of interest rate changes. Our asset liability management committee monitors the assumptions at least quarterly and periodically adjusts them as it deems appropriate. In the modeling, we assume that all maturities, calls, and prepayments in the securities portfolio are reinvested in like instruments, and we base the MBS prepayment assumptions on industry estimates of prepayment speeds for portfolios with similar coupon ranges and seasoning. We also use different interest rate scenarios and yield curves to measure the sensitivity of earnings to changing interest rates. Interest rates on different asset and liability accounts move differently when the short-term market rate changes and these differences are reflected in the different rate scenarios. We adjust deposit betas, decay rates and loan prepayment speeds periodically in our models for non-maturity deposits and loans.

We use our earnings simulation model to estimate earnings in rate environments where rates are instantaneously shocked up or down around a "most likely" rate scenario, based on implied forward rates and futures curves. The analysis assesses the impact on net interest income over a 12-month period after an immediate increase or "shock" in rates, of 100 bps up to 300 bps. The model, under all scenarios, does not drop the index below zero.

The following table represents the interest rate sensitivity on our net interest income across the rate paths modeled for the balances as of the periods ended:

	Change In Net Interest Income
	June 30, 2026	December 31, 2025	June 30, 2025
Change in Yield Curve:
+300 bps	4.96	7.44	5.49
+200 bps	3.59	5.28	4.03
+100 bps	1.94	2.79	2.21
Most likely rate scenario	—	—	—
-100 bps	(1.90)	(2.53)	(1.53)
-200 bps	(4.30)	(4.97)	(2.82)
-300 bps	(6.15)	(5.77)	(3.07)

If an institution is asset sensitive its assets reprice more quickly than its liabilities and net interest income would be expected to increase in a rising interest rate environment and decrease in a falling interest rate environment. If an institution is liability sensitive its liabilities reprice more quickly than its assets and net interest income would be expected to decrease in a rising interest rate environment and increase in a falling interest rate environment.

From a net interest income perspective, we were generally less asset sensitive as of June 30, 2026, compared to our positions as of December 31, 2025 and June 30, 2025. This shift is due, in part, to the changing market characteristics of certain loan and deposit products. We expect net interest income to increase with an immediate increase or shock in market rates. In a decreasing interest rate environment, we expect a decline in net interest income as interest-earning assets re-price more quickly than interest-bearing deposits.

Economic Value Simulation Modeling

We use economic value simulation modeling to calculate the estimated fair value of assets and liabilities over different interest rate environments. We calculate the economic values based on discounted cash flow analysis. The net economic value of equity is the economic value of all assets minus the economic value of all liabilities. The change in net economic value over different rate environments is an indication of the longer-term earnings capability of the balance sheet. We use the same assumptions in the economic value simulation model as in the earnings simulation model. The economic value simulation model uses instantaneous rate shocks to the balance sheet.

The following table reflects the estimated change in net economic value over different rate environments using economic value simulation for the balances as of the periods ended:

	Change In Economic Value of Equity
	June 30,	December 31,	June 30,
	2026	2025	2025
Change in Yield Curve:
+300 bps	(6.45)	(4.70)	(9.75)
+200 bps	(4.01)	(2.78)	(6.40)
+100 bps	(1.79)	(1.19)	(3.18)
Most likely rate scenario	—	—	—
-100 bps	0.66	(0.03)	2.40
-200 bps	(0.92)	(2.19)	3.52
-300 bps	(3.37)	(5.34)	2.13

As of June 30, 2026, our economic value of equity was more liability sensitive in a rising interest rate environment compared to our position as of December 31, 2025. This shift is primarily due to the composition of our Consolidated Balance Sheets and also due to the pricing characteristics and assumptions of certain deposits and loans. We were less liability sensitive in a rising rate environment compared to our position as of June 30, 2025, primarily due to the composition of our Consolidated Balance Sheets and also due to the pricing characteristics and assumptions of certain deposits and loans.

ITEM 4 – CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Management, under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, evaluated the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures as of June 30, 2026. The term "disclosure controls and procedures," as defined in Rule 13a-15(e) under the Exchange Act, means controls and other procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Company in reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to management, including the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Based on this evaluation, the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded as of June 30, 2026, the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective at the reasonable assurance level.

In designing and evaluating the Company's disclosure controls and procedures, management recognized that disclosure controls and procedures, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance that the objectives of the disclosure controls and procedures are met. Additionally, in designing disclosure controls and procedures, management necessarily was required to apply its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible disclosure controls and procedures. The design of any disclosure controls and procedures also is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events, and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions.

Changes in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

There was no change in the Company's internal control over financial reporting (as such term is defined Rule 13a-15(f) of the Exchange Act) that occurred during the quarter ended June 30, 2026 that materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

PART II - OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1 – LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

In the ordinary course of our operations, we are party to various legal proceedings. Based on the information presently available, and after consultation with legal counsel, management believes that the ultimate outcome in such proceedings, in the aggregate, will not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, or results of operations.

ITEM 1A – RISK FACTORS

During the quarter ended June 30, 2026, there have been no material changes from the risk factors previously disclosed under Part I, Item 1A. "Risk Factors" in our 2025 Form 10-K.

An investment in our securities involves risks. In addition to the other information set forth in this Quarterly Report, including the information addressed under "Forward-Looking Statements," investors in our securities should carefully consider the risk factors discussed in our 2025 Form 10-K. These factors could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, liquidity, results of operations, and capital position and could cause our actual results to differ materially from our historical results or the results contemplated by the forward-looking statements contained in this report, in which case the trading price of our securities could decline.

ITEM 2 – UNREGISTERED SALES OF EQUITY SECURITIES AND USE OF PROCEEDS

(a) Sales of Unregistered Securities – None

(b) Use of Proceeds – Not Applicable

(c) Issuer Purchases of Securities

Stock Repurchase Program; Other Repurchases

On May 5, 2026, the Company’s Board of Directors authorized a share repurchase program to purchase up to $250 million of the Company’s common stock in open market transactions or privately negotiated transactions, including pursuant to a trading plan in accordance with Rule 10b5-1 and/or Rule 10b-18 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. The authorization permits management to repurchase shares of the Company’s common stock from time to time at management’s discretion. The actual means and timing of any shares purchased under the Repurchase Program will depend on a variety of factors, including the market price of the Company’s common stock, share issuances under Company equity plans, general market and economic conditions, applicable legal and regulatory requirements, and other factors. The Repurchase Program is authorized through May 5, 2027, although it may be modified or terminated by the Board at any time, and does not obligate the Company to purchase any particular number of shares.

The following information describes our common stock repurchases for the three months ended June 30, 2026 (dollars in thousands, except share and per share data):

Period	Total number of shares purchased ⁽¹⁾	Average price paid per share ($) ⁽²⁾	Total number of shares purchased as part of publicly announced plans or programs	Approximate dollar value of shares that may yet be purchased under the plans or programs ($) ⁽²⁾
April 1 - April 30, 2026	10,197	36.01	—	—
May 1 - May 31, 2026	1,883	37.14	—	250,000
June 1 - June 30, 2026 ⁽³⁾	274,467	37.76	264,961	239,995
Total	286,547	37.69	264,961

⁽¹⁾ For the three months ended June 30, 2026, 21,586 shares were withheld upon vesting of restricted shares granted to our employees in order to satisfy tax withholding obligations.

⁽³⁾ The Company began repurchasing shares under the Repurchase Program in June 2026.

ITEM 5 – OTHER INFORMATION

Trading Arrangements

During the three months ended June 30, 2026, none of our directors or officers (as defined in Rule 16a-1(f) of the Exchange Act) informed us of the adoption or termination of any Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement or non-Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement (as such terms are defined in Item 408 of Regulation S-K of the Securities Act of 1933).
